Foreword

On the Alberta campus, the shrill whine of overhead jets often clashes with the jangle of period bells. The heavy drone of transport and passenger planes passing by on their route over the top of the world provides a bass background for the quieter buzz in lecture rooms. Alberta is a broad highway to the North and to the East. Alberta's destiny has been, and is increasingly linked with this geopolitical position.

Much as we may resent erroneous ideas about Alberta as "practically in the Arctic circle," most of us realize the opportunities inherent in being the true doorway to the last and most fabulous continental frontier. For this (and also because most of us know and remember the campus in winter dress) this volume of Evergreen and Gold is salted with Northern flavour. May it bring true and lasting memories for all of you!

To the pioneers and trappers; to the prospectors who found gold and silver, copper and zinc, tungsten, columbium, tantalum, cadmium, bismuth, cobalt, radium and uranium—who found an Eldorado beyond imagination; to the early bush flyers and trail makers; to the sourdoughs and natives of the North—this volume of Evergreen and Gold is respectfully dedicated.

The passing of Doctor Robert David Sinclair, late Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture, was keenly felt by all who knew and worked with him. He was respected for his work in scientific agriculture and highly regarded as a man, but more than that, he was thought of as a personal friend by everyone in the Faculty. His friendly advice was always freely given, and in appreciation of his help, Dr. Sinclair was awarded Life Membership in the Agricultural Club, one of two men thus honoured by the students.

Dr. Sinclair's association with this University covered the greater part of his life. He was a member of the University's first graduating class in the Faculty of Agriculture, in 1918, and returned as a member of the staff in 1922. From 1942 until his death, Dr. Sinclair served as Dean of the Faculty, guiding it through the difficult post-war years. As a scientist, as a man and as a friend, Dr. Sinclair will be greatly missed and long remembered.

President's Message

Loyalty is one of the finer qualities of people, and one to be cultivated. The capacity for loyalty must be developed in relation to the things which are close to us. Loyalty, like charity, begins at home if it is to begin at all. Loyalty to humanity in general or to universal institutions lacks the mark of genuineness when professed by those who display no regard for people and institutions close to home.

Loyalty is accompanied by a proper pride. There is a proper pride in our homes and our own folk, in our community and the people who live in it, in our University and the achievements of our fellow students, in our Province and its resources, in our Country and its place among the nations.

Loyalty is associated with a sense of obligation. We are indebted to our homes and for the opportunities our families have given us, to the community for the support it has given to our education, to the University for the doors it has help open to us, to our fellow students for the stimulus of their friendship.

As Albertans and Canadians we are privileged among the peoples of the world. We enjoy a rich and varied heritage of culture, and unrivalled material resources are our possession. These things are available to us because of the energy and enterprise of others. Others lack the advantages we enjoy, and today the eyes of the world are on us.

As Albertans and Canadians you will be among those responsible for the use to which the resources of this country are put. Other countries lack our great potentialities, and our responsibilities are the greater for that reason. These responsibilities can best be met by pressing ahead with the development of our resources with the same vigour and boldness displayed in earlier periods of expansion in Canada.

In the first decade of this century the bold and farsighted policies adopted at Confederation bore fruit in the settlement of the plains of western Canada. Our fathers contributed their effort and energy to the great period of agricultural expansion. That period is now over.

Canada still has frontiers to expand. The hidden and exposed resources of the northland await discovery and development. This will be the task of your generation. It is an exciting prospect.

Presidential Interview

Even before the famous football kick-off of 1950, President Andrew Stewart won the hearts and commanded the admiration of all students at the University of Alberta. Born in Edinburgh on January 17, 1904, President Stewart spent the first twenty years of his life amid the beauty and traditions of bonnie Scotland.

Credited with a College Diploma in Agriculture, he ventured across the Atlantic to begin farming in Manitoba. Wishing to further investigate agricultural possibilities, he chose Australia and South Africa as stopping places on his round trip of the British Dominions. However, in 1926 Canada again called and Andrew Stewart arrived on the prairies where he enjoyed three years of western farming.

A decision to resume his studies resulted in his graduation from the University of Manitoba with a B.S.A. and M.A. in Economics, in addition to an appointment as lecturer for the 1932-33 session.

President Stewart's following year of doctorate study in Edinburgh has been set aside by his unselfish devotion to public service. As author of numerous agricultural publications, he has directed his untiring energies towards vital research in both Dominion and Provincial fields. His governmental interests include, among others: membership on wartime advisory committees, on the Alberta Taxation Commission, and on the Public Utilities Commission. Officiating in the difficult capacity of chairman on various arbitration boards has revealed the president's tact in adjusting differences to form an acceptable opinion.

Many social services have also stemmed from the efforts of our obliging president. The C.O.T.C., the Boy Scouts, the Edmonton Public School Board, the Home and School Association, the Chamber of Commerce and the Metropolitan United Church Elders have all witnessed his leadership.

President Stewart began his career at the University of Alberta in 1935 by accepting an invitation to lecture in Agricultural Economics and Political Economy. His true worth was soon realized and he filled efficiently the succeeding posts of: Head of the Department of Political Economy in 1946, Director of the School of Commerce and Dean of Business Affairs in 1949. In the latter position he investigated the inner fields of University finance. As fitting recognition of the contributions he has made to the lives of young Canadians, Andrew Stewart was appointed President of the University of Alberta in the fall of 1950. Combining a knowledge of internal administration with a loyalty to Western public service, he fulfills the aims of a great university.

Andrew Stewart's family life has been a particularly happy one. In 1931, as a student, he married Miss Jessie Borland. Their two oldest sons, sixteen and fifteen years of age, claim Scotland as their birthplace. Two daughters, aged ten and six, and two more sturdy sons of twelve and five years complete the Stewarts' lively family.

In campus relations, President Stewart's tolerance and understanding of youth reaches far into the heart of student life. His unassuming nature inspires confidence in all of his associates. His sterling character supports the theory that steadfastness of purpose and high personal aspirations are foundations on which to seek the true meaning of life. The motto of Andrew Stewart's life may be summed up in these words: "Whatsoever thy hand findeth, do it with all thy might." A challenge to any student is the successful career of our own—President Andrew Stewart.

STUDENTS' COUNCIL

This year marked the opening of the social unit of the long dreamed of Students' Union Building. These facilities are largely due to the foresight and planning by student bodies of the past. This year's council has assumed the responsibility of pursuing the endeavours of those that have gone before us to ensure the successful conclusion of the second stage. We charge the students of the future to undertake this trust and to continue the high standard of planning in student affairs as shown by the past Student Councils.

On behalf of the members of the Students' Council I wish to express our sincere thanks to the many students that have rendered invaluable assistance in the carrying out of the many functions of student government. At the best the successful carrying out of the administration of student affairs is difficult, but without the contribution of these people, and the enthusiastic support and co-operation of the student body, no measure of success could have been attained.

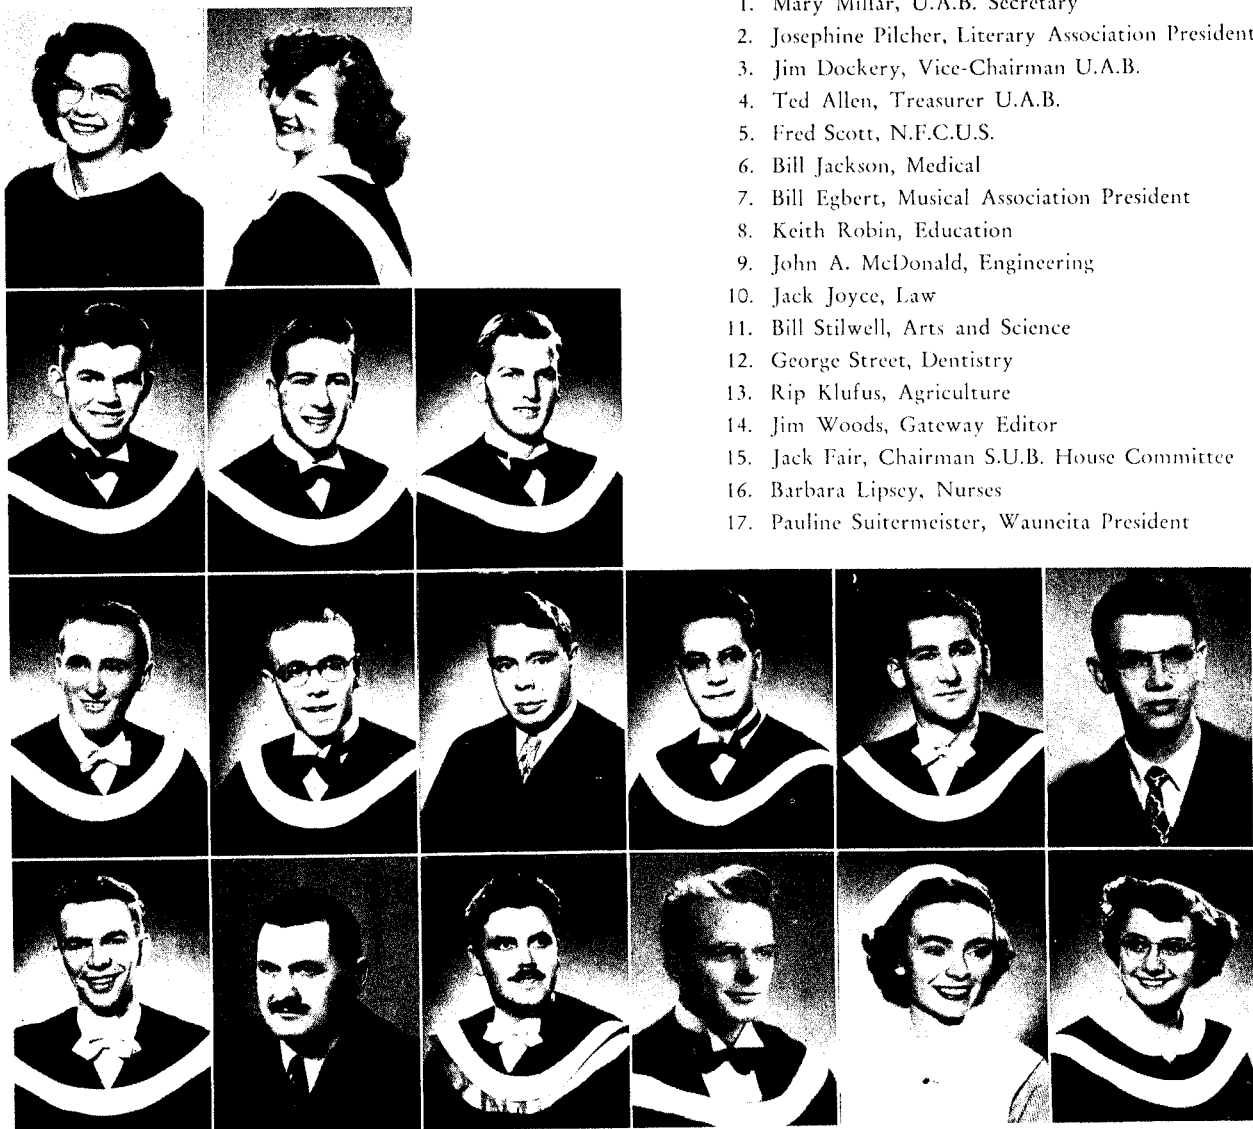

It has been an honor and a privilege to serve the student body of this university, and at the same time a very pleasant experience.

Michael B. O'Byrne

STUDENTS' COUNCIL

The Students' Council is a body delegated by the Senate of the University for the promotion of all extra-curricular student activities. All legislative, executive and administrative powers of the Students' Union are vested in the Students' Council. The Council is composed of twenty-one members and meets every other week in the Students' Union Building.

The Council of 1950-51 has had a very successful year under the able leadership of President Mike O'Bryne and his executive. The long dreamed of Students' Union Building finally became a reality this year. The activities of the Council have been many and varied . . . and the Council members have worked long and hard solving the many matters connected with effective student government.

UNIVERSITY ATHLETIC BOARD

DR. M. L. VAN VLEIT, President

The purpose of the Board is to preserve and direct all amateur athletic sports and games both intramural and extramural amongst the students of the University of Alberta. This has been the uppermost thought in the minds of those of the faculty and the student body serving on the Board this year. It would not be performing its full duty to the students unless it provides full participation for all the men and women in a wide variety of activities.

A full intercollegiate program is being carried out with varying success. There are teams representing the university in all the major sports and most of the minor ones. These include the following: Basketball, Hockey, Golf, Tennis, Boxing, Wrestling, Badminton, Swimming, Curling, Skiing, Volleyball and Figure Skating, the last two refer to women only. Evidence of the success of this program is apparent when one considers that there are many Olympic prospects in Boxing, Wrestling, and Skiing. Also there are great hopes of having the Varsity Golden Bears represent the Canadian Basketball Champions who proceed to the olympics every four years.

Extensive participation in intramural sports is a good index of how the student body appreciates a recreational program. In cooperation with the Department of Physical Education plans are made for the greatest possible enjoyment of sports, both in competition and recreation. The following sports are included in the intramural program: Touch Football, Hockey, Basketball, Cross-Country, Volleyball, Swimming, Table-Tennis, Badminton, Soccer, Golf, Tennis and Track and Field. The participation in all these activities is increasing each year and this year is proving to be the greatest yet. It is interesting to note that over a hundred and twenty-five entries were received in this year's cross-country with over a hundred crossing the finish line.

The University Athletic Board believes that there should be an opportunity for every man and woman to engage in some sort of sport and it is the earnest desire of the Board to extend the facilities as rapidly as possible so that every student can enjoy a recreational activity in which they desire to participate, either as spectators or players.

WAUNEITA

"Payuk Uche Kukeyow. Kukeyow Uche Payuk"

The Wauneita Society is composed of all women students on the campus. Through their Wauneita representatives, other clubs are linked to this society, which is organized in the form of an Indian tribe.

The list of activities for 1950-51 began during Freshman Introduction Week, when new squaws were received into the tribe. The Wauneita Formal was one of the major events of the fall term, proving to be a great success. The wonderful spirit of the executive and the keen interest and participation of the girls on the campus have made all the succeeding functions a tribute to the society. The Wauneitas have indeed proven true to their motto each for all and all for each.

MACLEOD CLUB

HONORARY
PRESIDENT: MISS M. S.
SIMPSON.

PRESIDENT, KAY McKNIGHT.

The last Thursday in every month finds the student nurses relaxing at the Macleod Club, free for a while from the everlasting rush of thermometers, "scrubs," and howling babies.

Here they air out their current grievances such as not enough late leaves, too much night duty, and plan social activities, enjoy movies and listen to interesting guest speakers. Then, of course, there are the probie parties, at which each new arrival is vigorously and exuberantly welcomed.

A fine dance "The Snow Ball" was held in the mixed lounge of the Students' Union Building this November, many doctors were present and one of the comments that made the evening more memorable was that the nurses sure knew how to put on a dance.

Another annual event, eagerly looked forward to is the Doctor McGugan's Dance, always providing a gay time for those lucky enough to get the night off.

This Christmas the nurses sponsored the Wauncita White Gift Party at the Students' Union Building. Many children were enthralled with gifts provided by the Wauneitas at this affair.

Miss Kay McKnight has produced one of the most memorable years for the Club, her untiring cheerfulness and diplomacy always in use. The other members of this capable executive were: Jean Sawdon, Vice-president; Sheila MacDonald, Secretary and Bea Batchelor, Treasurer.

The Pan Hellenic Society is the advisory body for women's fraternities on the campus. Its membership includes two representatives from each of the four campus frats; an alumni member from each frat and a Golden Key representative. Miss M. S. Simpson acts as advisor to the body. The aim of Pan Hellenic is to promote good scholastic standards, cooperation and fine social standards among the frats. Pan Hellenic has the power of discipline over the frats and also issues regulations concerning rushing and chapter policy.

IVAN HEAD, PRESIDENT

Interfraternity Council is a governing body and advisory body which serves as a clearing house for fraternity problems. The council is representative of the eight men's fraternities on the campus and decides policy in regard to interfraternity competitions and relations.

In addition, I.F.C. is the outlet through which the fraternities' charitable work is carried on. This year an European war orphan was adopted by the Alberta fraternity men. This feat and others were financed by "Club 51" the annual night club extravaganza.

GOLDEN KEY SOCIETY

The Golden Key Society is a group of students elected by fellow-students of their respective faculties, residences, and groups. Its principle purpose is to give due recognition to students who have rendered outstanding service to the student body of the University. The total membership is limited to thirty but this number has not been attained in either of the two years of the Key's existence.

On the functional side, the Golden Key performs the duties of a social directorate: welcoming all visitors to the University, seeing to their needs and comfort during their stay, and supplying them with the means of entertainment where necessary. The Key also provides a panel of efficient and experienced workers ready to aid in the social functions of the various organizations of the student body. Such major annual undertakings as Freshman Introduction Week and Alumni Homecoming are in the charge of this society.

During its short two years on the campus, the Golden Key Society has quietly infiltrated many phases of student activity; performing the duties, both large and small, of a "campus service club".

MUSICAL ASSOCIATION

BILL EGBERT, PRESIDENT

The Musical Association, comprising the Mixed Chorus, the Symphony, the Ballet Club, and the Musical Club, sponsors all major musical activities on the University Campus. The 1950-51 session proved to be a most successful one with many concerts being given for the student body and the general public.

Capacity audiences in Convocation Hall and Calgary, were once again enjoyably entertained by the Mixed Chorus under the baton of Professor Richard S. Eaton. At the conclusion of final examinations, the Chorus made its annual tour of Southern Alberta centres.

The Symphony had as its conductor, Mr. Arthur Crighton of the Fine Arts Department. Bach's Branderburg Concerto was presented as the major work in the February concerts. The Symphony joined with the members of the Choral Labs to present a most entertaining afternoon of Christmas music in early December.

Many excellent concerts were presented by the Musical Club throughout the year, featuring students on the campus. The Christmas Concert of the Symphony was sponsored by the Club.

Thanks to this organization, hundreds of students have derived hours of pleasure and musical education during another successful year.

S.U.B. HOUSE COMMITTEE

The opening of the Students' Union Building last fall marked the culmination of many long years of planning and effort. In order to ensure that the best possible care be taken of the building a set of regulations concerning its use were drawn up by the Students' Council, and the S.U.B. House Committee was set up to see that these rules were enforced. The House Committee, under the chairmanship of Jack Fair, has performed this task admirably.

LITERARY SOCIETY

JOSEPHINE PILCHER,
PRESIDENT.

The past session has been a most eventful one for all the organizations which are united to form the Literary Association, which holds the proud claim of being the largest affiliated group of clubs on the campus. In their various sections and modifications of literary activity, the Drama Society, Radio Society, Debating Society, International Relations Club, Political Science Club and the Public Speaking Club have all had one of the busiest and most successful years in their history. However, while pleased and encouraged by the achievements of this year, "Lit" has an eye to the future, too. With long-range reforms designed to provide for a more tightly knit and efficient organization, the Association hopes that it will become even more valuable in contributing to a well-balanced student life on this campus.

VIRGE MOSHANSKY, DIRECTOR

PUBLICATIONS PHOTOGRAPHY DIRECTORATE

The Publications Photography Directorate accompanied the student publications and many other student organizations in the general move to the new Students' Union Building last fall. New office facilities, with space for storing cameras, photography equipment and supplies, and an excellent dark room, made the task of keeping The Gateway and the Year Book supplied with adequate pictures a somewhat pleasanter occupation than it was in former years.

This year the Directorate was made up of some half a dozen photographers, with Director Virg Moshansky ably carrying out the job of an executive and photographer at the same time. None of the photographers receive remuneration for their work so the excellent pictures of campus activities and personalities which were produced were all the more commendable. The quality of the shots was given official recognition when The Gateway received an honourable mention, in Canadian University Press intervarsity competition, for its photography, all of which was done by the Directorate.

No doubt the photographers were not highly pleased at times when they were faced with snapping, developing, printing and delivering a picture all in one night to meet an impending deadline, but their work was much appreciated and contributed much towards making the student publications more interesting and informative to their readers.

THE GATEWAY

The 1950-51 Gateway underwent some revolutionary changes. Because of recurrent shortages of experienced staff over the past few years it was decided to institute a change in the period of office for the Editor-in-Chief. Accordingly Editors-in-Chief, commencing this year, will be appointed at Christmas time and hold office until the following Christmas.

Jim Woods, Editor-in-Chief for 1947-48, stepped in to fill the half-year gap brought about by the change and held office until December, 1950. He was succeeded by Dale Newcombe who will hold office until December, 1951.

Another radical change in this year's Gateway was the reduction of issues from two to one per week. This was undertaken in an attempt to find time for experienced members of the staff to train new members. It is not yet known whether it will be necessary to continue with one issue only next year but hopes are high that the Gateway will be able to return to two issues per week.

Perhaps the greatest undertaking of The Gateway during the past term was the championing of a movement seeking to establish a course in journalism at the University.

Both Jim Woods and Dale Newcombe were ably assisted throughout the year by Managing Editor Louise Wilkins, Sports Editor Jim Redmond, News Editor John McPhee and a host of reporters, feature writers, and make-up assistants.

The business affairs of The Gateway this year were centralized in the Students' Union General Office by the appointment of W. A. Dinwoodie, Permanent Secretary-Accountant of the Students' Union, as Business Manager for The Gateway.

Advertising was handled by Hugh (Scotty) Macdonald ably assisted by Murray Meeres.

EVERGREEN

Like its illustrious predecessors, this volume of the University's yearbook was produced under the same conditions of physical and mental torment which always seem to supply the characteristic background for so large an undertaking. Constantly haunted by the thought of impending deadlines, a few of which we met, and of impending examinations, a few of which we passed, the staff lived the precarious dual life of a reading and writing bookworm. We were cheered in our efforts by our new office in the Students' Union Building, which provided a somewhat less foreboding atmosphere than our former basement retreat in Athabasca, and at the same time relieved much of the crowding which has tried the courage of staffs of other years.

To enable us to publish a worthwhile yearbook on schedule, we enlisted the valuable services of Schofield and Wood, an overtown agency. They took over most of the routine duties and saved us many late nights of work, but at the same time we retained the planning, the writing and the headaches.

Since almost innumerable students donated their time and talents to help make this enterprise a success, it would be quite foolhardy to even attempt to mention them all here. The section editors and their assistants utilized many gallons of both coffee and ink in an attempt to capture on paper the different activities that are woven into a year of varsity life. The Students' Union Stenographers and many less professional typists used their training to excellent advantage in carrying out the awe-inspiring task of matching the thousands of names, with pictures, addresses and faculties that are part of the yearbook, with as few mistakes as humanly possible. The fine work, and close co-operation of the Photo Directorate gave us a wealth of pictures of campus activities and personalities to add spice to these pages. Many others, whose names you won't find in this volume, took time off from their studying to lighten our load. Also, we imagine, the simple occupation of integrating all the workers and solving the countless problems which arose did much towards making Frank's year as Director a memorable one for him.

If however this book, both now and in the years which lie ahead, helps to bring you back in spirit to the campus, the people and the activities you enjoyed this year, our work will be richly rewarded.

FROSH HANDBOOK and TELEPHONE DIRECTORY

Two small publications that were a big help to the students this year were the Freshman Handbook and the Telephone Directory. Although the prospects that the Frosh would ever have a Handbook appeared to be very slight two weeks before registration, the Director and three willing assistants had the book all ready for registration day. It was very useful in helping to guide the newer students into not only the buildings but also some of the customs and traditions of the University. Then nearly twenty workers, principally Pembinites, pitched in to carry out the many thankless tasks of sorting, typing, checking and rechecking that made possible the distribution of the Telephone Directory early in November. Probably no other student publication was as widely or as often used, for both social and business reasons, as the Directory, and, despite the odd error, it was a tedious job well done.

The Alarm, Students' Union's daily news bulletin, also made the beneficial move from the bowels of Athabasca to the Students' Union Building this year. We could thus no longer rely on the "faithful" residents of Athabasca for the menial odd hour jobs so our daily staff was reduced to one to enable more efficient production.

A daily circulation of 800 copies was maintained throughout the year and distribution took place in Arts, Medical and Students' Union Buildings.

The staff this year included Gerry Francis as Editor-in-chief and Lu Piening as Business Manager. Daily Editors were Joe Blonsky, Denny Duggan, Vic Stephens, Gerry Waterhouse, Bill Anderson and Pete Willson.

STET

The Evergreen and Gold recorded the first appearance of Stet in 1948, describing it as a student magazine. Following in line with this description, the 1950-51 staff of Stet would like to state clearly its conception of the purpose of a university magazine.

Like the Radio Club, The Gateway and similar organizations, Stet should be the outcome of student activity. It is presumed that a certain number of the graduates of this university will make their living and possibly their reputations in the field of creative writing. Such a magazine as Stet should be part of the training offered to these future professional writers as well as being a medium of expression open to any student. Naturally a high standard must be maintained if the publication is to be acceptable to the student body and of any real use to the contributors.

If a university magazine does not represent the work of its students it is difficult to see any adequate reason for its existence—although exist it certainly should. Any university of good standing surely possesses students with sufficient talent to produce a magazine that will have general appeal. The staff of Stet would like a wide range of articles, poetry, photography and short stories from which to select. It is only through having a large number of contributions that the students can be given an interesting magazine.

Students

The Senior Class executive, this year, was composed of three hard working people, Owen Hooper, Mary-Lou Lister and John Basaraba.

One of the first duties of the Executive at the beginning of the year was the appointment of Class Valedictorian, Jim Woods, and Class Historian, Lorna Bisset, whose work was the recording of the graduating class's trials and tribulations, during their years here. Professor J. D. Campbell was given the position of Honorary President of the Class of '51.

Two highlights of the year were the final graduation exercises and celebrations marking the ultimate goal of the students, and the Formal dance which was held at the Trocadero. In keeping with the natural view-point of the graduates, the theme of the dance was Brave New World, with decidedly futuristic decorations.

SENIOR CLASS EXECUTIVE

Owen Hooper, Mary-Lou Lister and John Basaraba.

The Freshman Class Executive, elected in December, was under the leadership of President "Sandy" Heard, with Helen Steeves, Betty Scarlett, Geraldine Asplund, Robin Williams and Ken Stewart filling the other Executive positions.

In an effort to give the annual freshman function wider appeal, this year's Executive decided to abandon the former Formal dance. Instead the whole Students' Union Building was utilized for a Freshman House Party, in March. Kay Pitcher provided the music for semi-formal dancing in the Mixed Lounge and the Wauneita Lounge, the Men's Lounge was the sitting room for the evening and the Snack Bar was kept open. During intermission the Games Room was also open. Everybody that attended enjoyed the novel arrangement and appreciated the clever use of our own versatile Building, for functions of this kind.

VALEDICTORY

Valedictories are very often comprised of three main ingredients: the gently falling tear for days now past, the sad and fond farewell, and the forthright challenge to the future. Any graduates expecting to find any of these three in this address will be very disappointed.

This is a time for rejoicing—not for tears! We are happy to be leaving this university! Not because we feel we are sluffing off a great burden but because at last we have attained the first major goal of our careers and because we can now pit our wits against real, not academic, problems.

There are some who profess to mourn this parting of the ways, saying that now they lose the friends they made upon this campus. But distance does not end a friendship—rather, it tends to fix it firmly. It is our good fortune that we have had the opportunity to make fast friends amongst the faculty and student body and the warmth of that comradeship is such that should ever enrich our lives and characters.

Then there are some who shed their tears because they profess a fear of leaving the sheltered life afforded by these walls. It is the great paradox, however, of this, or any other university, that in leaving we arrive, that in our departure we have at last come to be one with the university. For it is only by our graduation that we become members of Convocation and for the first time full-fledged members of the University of Alberta. Convocation will confer upon us a new status which we can never shake. We become at once a very real part of the university itself. From this day forth, wherever a member of the Class of '51 is found, there will be found a part of the University of Alberta.

It would not be fitting that we should leave this place of so many happy, fruitful years without some expression of gratitude. We have much for which to be grateful. When we gaze at the great blood-red shadow of pestilence, war and slavery which still overshadows so much of this world of ours, we can only thank God that we have had the opportunity to come to university at all. Our greatest human gratitude, however, should be reserved for the members of the faculty of this university. For them it has been a most thankless task at the best of times. Many of them have passed up fame and great wealth to devote their lives to a great universal idea—that of a university. To them we can never render their just due. And yet, whatever success may be ours in our separate fields, we can never claim a separate victory, an individual triumph. From this day, whatever may be our fame or triumph, we must share it with those men and women who have served us so silently and so well. Their reward lies in our success. When a graduate of this university attains some mark of real distinction, they may rest content that their labors have not been in vain. And so it rests with us to successfully conclude, in our separate fields, what the faculty have so well begun.

In first drafting this address, I had considered our motto, Quaecumque vera, at some length. The first reaction was that for years the graduates had been hearing this motto and would not appreciate its reiteration in the valedictory for the Class of '51. My fear was that the motto might ring trite and hackneyed in our ears. But more sober thought made me realize that, if Quaecumque vera has become trite and hackneyed to us, then all that has gone before in this address and all that has gone before in our academic careers has been but a sham, a false front. Through ageless time, men have been seeking whatsoever things be true. Who are we, with our short span of time just past, to quibble with that quest? No, these past few years have but lightly accoutred us to take up the search where other, better men, have left off.

"Quaecumque vera" is not a trite and hackneyed phrase. "Quaecumque vera" is the forthright challenge to the future! And it is a challenge delivered not by us, but to us.

CLASS HISTORY

1951

To call this our "Class History" would seem to indicate a mere chronological story of events. Well, yes, in the true sense of the word it is "History"—but not just that mere string of events. The real historian might call it a "Four Year Pageant"; we will always remember this past four years as simply an unforgettable time in our lives full of studies, that's why we came, outside activities and, also very important, lots of fun.

When we shoved off into University life we arrived at a time when Alberta, and for that matter every other University, was overwhelmed with students. We all learned to line-up for something or other several times a week; our class rooms were always full; a seat in Truck came at a premium.

LORNA BISSET

To keep pace of a large registration, construction sprung forth all over the campus. We became used to the roar of the bulldozer or the pounding of many hammers as we walked from class to class. Construction was underway on the new Library—a memorial to Dr. Rutherford. The campus was really "bustin' out all over."

Our Frosh week back in '47 we approached and wondered. We enjoyed every minute of it—how we loved those straw hats! For the girls, October brought Wauneita initiations. Then back home came the Alumni, had a wonderful time, and watched a monster football parade. Our football Bears ran up against some tough opposition in a season highlighted by the visit of the University of Toronto Blues. The Wauneita Formal followed, then came Waw-waw—how the boys love to make us pay. Then came Christmas and we soon knew what University exams were. Our winter term was just as busy too. The ski team met with tough opposition at the Intercollegiate meet at Banff. On the basketball floor, the Golden Bears had a terrific season. The Mixed Chorus thrilled large crowds who filled Con Hall each night. We enjoyed the Inter-year plays too. Yes, our Freshie year had been a busy one.

Back we came in the fall of '48, the all powerful Sophomore, put each Frosh through "its" paces, as the latter wore their Indian regalia. The Bears ran away with another Intervarsity Football Championship. We entertained the new members of the Wauneita tribe at tea; soon we initiated them. The cornerstone of the new library was shepherded away under cover of darkness, and was found just in time so that the Lieutenant-Governor could apply the mortar on schedule. Bishop Neill opened the University Christian Mission late in November. We, the sophomores, pitched in with the other two undergrad classes and put on "A Night in Olde Vienna" in the Drill Hall. It was Stella Hanna whom the Engineers elected Queen for their annual Ball—Artsmen and their horses were foiled in an abduction campaign. For the 14th consecutive time, the Hockey Bears won the Halpenny Trophy against Saskatchewan. The Alberta girls trimmed Saskatchewan over at the curling rink. For many of us the term ended as we tucked Junior to bed, poured over the books, then tucked them away too.

Our Junior year began as we watched the Sophs "entertaining" the "dunce-capped" Freshies. On those long trips down to Ed or the old Math building we saw a new wing extending itself from the University Hospital. We found they had moved the Drill Hall down 114 Street to 87 Avenue to make way for the new Students' Union Building. The Arts and Science Club's Mardi Gras went over with a "bang" (despite the Engineers) as King "Reg" Lester presided. Football has now vanished from the campus. The basketball Bears finished the season losing two close ones to Magrath in the provincial finals. The hockey Bruins had a good season—yes, the Halpenny Trophy again. The Engineers' Ball came—stirred up the campus, and went, still living in the memories of many.

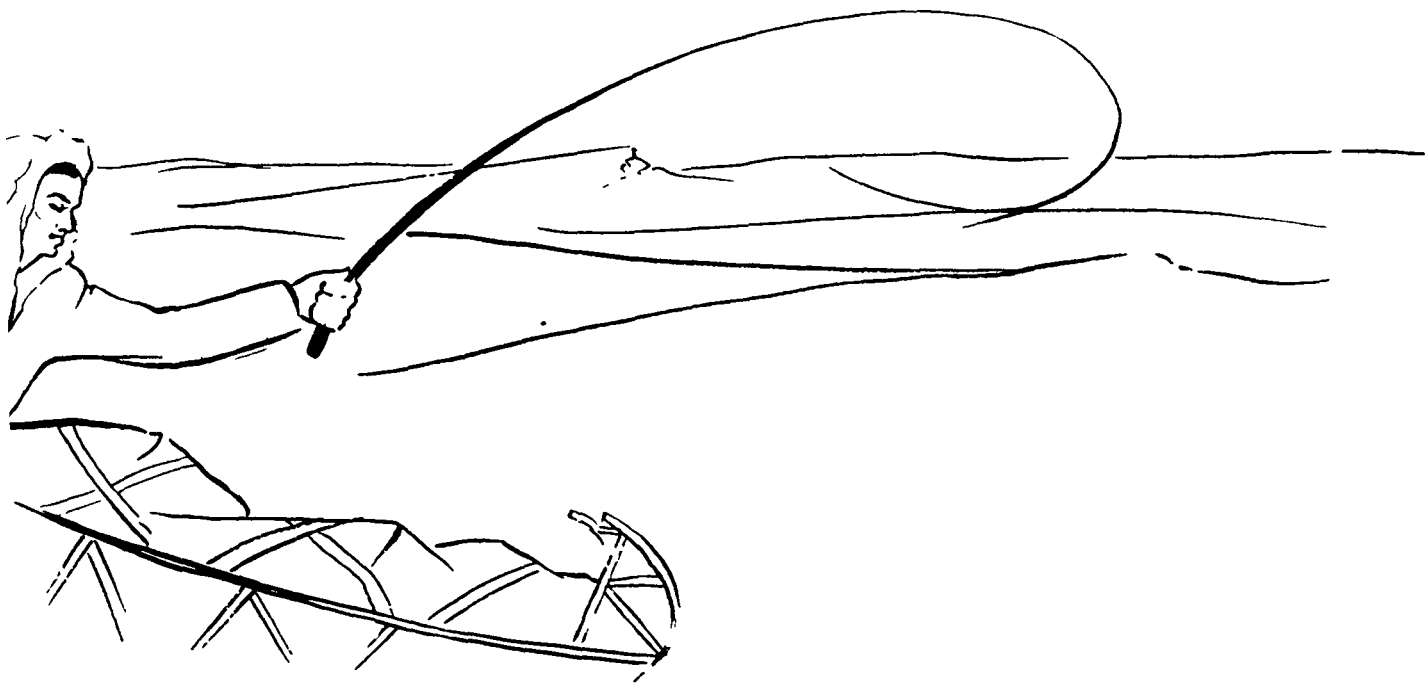

At last, here we were now in our Senior year. We were all very proud of the newly-opened Students' Union Building. The Library, the wing of the new Hospital, and the Aberhart Memorial Sanatorium were well underway. The I.F.C.'s Club '51 was a great success in the colorfully decorated Drill Hall. Owen Hooper was acclaimed to lead our Class Executive. We watched the hockey and basketball teams through respective successful seasons. In the middle of March, Color Night closed off the extracurricular side of Varsity life as many of our number were given prized awards for activity-participation. So we studied and finally it came—Convocation Day in May—we won't forget it.

Now we stand aside and look back through the past four years. Yes, those eight o'clocks were hard to make. The dances were fun. As the new graduate we look back, in memory, to the reality of our Varsity days which we'd just left. We knew we'd never forget those days.

Summer School

Someone once said—"The day I cease to learn, is the day I am no longer." Every year, when the University of Alberta campus is green with grass, and aflame with flowers, students from all parts of the Province come to "learn some more." Here, summer holidays merge with classrooms; ocean and mountain vacations must be seen through the books of education. There is, of course a time for play, and it must be said in fairness that this year's Summer School students enjoyed their session as much or more than any who have gone before.

We hope the next few pages will bring memories of both pleasant work and relaxing play to all who spent summer, 1950, on the campus of the University of Alberta.

PROF. G. M. DUNLOP
Director of Summer Session

SUMMER SCHOOL

Another Summer Session has ended and a few reminiscences are now, perhaps, in order. A new group of teachers from many parts of Alberta, and from other provinces too, have spent a profitable, and it is hoped a memorable term, studying to advance themselves in their chosen profession. The majority have already obtained some practical experience, many a considerable amount. Thus they have returned to their studies better able to appreciate the value of the courses, to strengthen their training where they know it will be of greatest advantage, and in other ways to employ their term here to obtain the fullest return from their investment of time and labor, both for themselves and for their future students. They are aided greatly, in this respect, by a highly select group of instructors and by fine campuses, both at Edmonton and Calgary.

It is very true, however, that the value anyone receives from an undertaking depends entirely upon the amount of work, study and thought that has been put into it. From this viewpoint I am sure that this year's class has acquitted itself well, and in future years will look back upon this session as one of its more worthwhile achievements in life.

DIRECTOR OF SUMMER SCHOOL.

During the past term our main interests have, of course, been our lectures and laboratory periods; the academic side of the term which, by increasing our knowledge, directly qualify us to be better instructors. But it is gratifying that the social side of our time here has certainly not been overlooked. Competitive sports have further developed our sense of sportsmanship as well as giving us the satisfaction of better health. Literary, musical and religious activities have equally developed our minds, giving us a deeper insight and a finer appreciation of, the cultured and artistic facets of life. Dances and other social functions train us further in getting along smoothly with our fellow men. Even the coffee sessions in the cafeteria have been worthwhile by fostering friendships and the exchange of ideas. All of these things, by broadening our experience and viewpoint, contribute strongly towards making us better teachers. Even of greater importance, they help to make us better citizens, not only of this province and country but of the world.

SOCIAL

One of the most important activities of the Summer Session was the formal tea, designed to promote better student-faculty relationships, which was held late in July. Students had the opportunity of meeting their new president, Professor Andrew Stewart and his assistant, Dr. Johns. Receiving the seven hundred guests who attended were Mrs. G. F. McNally, Mrs. G. M. Dunlop, Mrs. M. E. LaZerte, Miss M. Simpson, Mr. Douglas Petherbridge, Summer Session president and Mr. Richard Caniff, Social Convener of the Students' Union. Faculty members and students, pleased at the idea of being able to meet each other over "less serious matters," enjoyed the two hours spent in the University cafeteria.

Weeks of preparation by Students' Council and students climaxed in the Annual Semi-Formal, held in Athabasca dining hall. Members of the Students' Council served refreshments to the patronesses and guests. With exams only a week away, this was the last fling for most students, so they meant to make the most of it. Consequently over four hundred left studies for one night, donned gowns and best suits to help make the evening a wonderful success and thus be able to settle back to the grind of studying for the rest of the term.

TED AOKI
Men's Sports Rep.

Under the organization of athletic representatives Ted Aoki and Joyce Ferguson, students at the Summer Session were able to enjoy many and varied athletic activities. Ted did an excellent organization job of men's fastball, which was the most popular sport during the summer session. The Weary Eds, Lazy Joes, Boneheads, Tuck'ers, Cafhounds, Rowdy Nines and Ped-agogs fought for top position in some fifteen games. In the finals the Boneheads finally edged out the Rowdy Nines in a one-game, sudden-death, series.

Other organized sports on the campus were women's fastball, badminton and bowling.

Ladies' fastball proved very entertaining, in spite of the fact that it was not as well attended as the men's.

Hank Publicover, who boasts a number of badminton cups, was three-times winner in the Summer Session events. He walked off with the men's singles and doubles, and the mixed doubles. Marion Irwin won the ladies singles and doubles.

Max Pharis took both men's high singles and high triple in bowling. Sylvia Nabholz bowled top score in the Ladies high triple and also was on the team which won the high aggregate.

MENS FASTBALL WINNERS

ACTIVITIES

Many and varied were the other activities on the campus during Summer Session. During the two days the Students' Union Building was open for tours, fourteen students conducted approximately one thousand people through it. Faculty members appeared especially interested in seeing the building, for scarcely one missed the chance.

Every second Wednesday the Musical Society, chiefly in co-operation with the Music department of the University, held concerts. The most popular of these was that of the University's own Mr. Crighton, who gave an organ recital in Convocation Hall.

Tuesday nights the campus went Western. Miss Pat Austin of the Physical Education Department, with the assistance of several students, held folk dancing classes on the campus, in the hope of cultivating not only dancers but also callers. If the expanding attendance of these functions could be taken as an indication, the folk dances were very popular. The session ended with a series of dances presented to the students. The performance was more than crowded and was much appreciated by all those who attended.

Several instructors felt that students would get much more from classes on the lawn. Consequently French and Philosophy were common sights on the campus, literally.

Athabasca women organized coffee dates each week to help fellow students get acquainted. These were held three times a week for three weeks, and served their purpose well.

Adding the religious touch to the University's lighter side, was a church service conducted by Rev. D. J. Elson at Convocation Hall. Students there had a chance to hear soloists, Mrs. Jack Hunt and the University organist, Professor L. H. Nichols.

D R A M A C L U B

The Dramatic Society had an unusual round of activities this year, as it continued with its policy of developing dramatic talent on the campus.

The first major production of the year, Androcles and the Lion, was very successful, with many new members getting a chance to display their capabilities. A one-act curtain raiser, Passion, Poison and Petrification, also contributed to the enjoyment of the performance.

At the beginning of the second term, many club members took part in various Studio Theatre productions, gathering valuable experience and having some part in the success of the first year of this new theatre group.

In March, another big production, The Glass Menagerie, was undertaken, produced in the somewhat novel and interesting style of the theatre-in-the-round.

Throughout the year, numerous other activities were undertaken in the form of meetings, skits and parties. The Society had its troubles, too, but with the help of their friend and Honorary President, Henry Kreisel, it was an exceptional year.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

A. B. CRIGHTON—CONDUCTOR.

ARNOLD MURRAY—PRESIDENT

The year 1950-51 was a period of improvement, of growth and of maturation for the University Symphony Orchestra. A special effort was made to complete the instrumentation with student musicians and, except for the services of a few professionals, this goal was achieved. Forty-six players took part in the Orchestra this year. Mr. Crighton of the Music Department assumed conductorship of the Orchestra following the graduation of Ted Lindskoog, former student director.

A new and vigorous spirit began to germinate in the whole orchestra with everyone showing keen interest and co-operation. Besides the principal concert in February, two other concerts were given, one at Victoria Composite High School and a Christmas concert presented jointly with the Choral Lab of the Music Division. Two parties provided the members with some divertisement from the more serious task of rehearsing. The activities of a very successful year terminated with a banquet.

The Ballet Club got off to a good start at the beginning of the term with a membership of twenty-five students. Mr. William Hay served as instructor until the end of December and gave the members excellent guidance. Unfortunately, Mr. Hay was unable to finish the year with the Club, as he had to return to New York at Christmas time. Miss Elaine Fitzpatrick kindly took over the instruction of the Club after the Christmas holidays and continued as instructor until the end of the term. Activities of the Club, which included a production at a Musical Club Concert in March, were guided by Miss Madeleine Turcotte, this year's President.

BILL EGBERT —
PRESIDENT

The University of Alberta Mixed Chorus was first organized in 1944 under the leadership of first year medical student Gordon Clark. The first concert by the 70 members of this group was presented in Convocation Hall in February 1945.

Since that time the Chorus has grown to such an extent that auditions have been necessary in order to reduce the number to its present size of 130. This practice has helped to improve the quality and balance of the Chorus.

In addition to the Edmonton and Calgary concerts, the Mixed Chorus will tour the Southern part of the province in early May.

For the fourth successive year the Chorus is fortunate in having as its conductor Richard S. Eaton, assistant professor in the Fine Arts Department of the University. Perhaps we can better appreciate the task before Mr. Eaton when we consider that the Chorus has over fifty percent new members each year. Many of these choristers have had no previous choral experience. Giving unstintingly of his time and abilities, Mr. Eaton has moulded a Chorus that promises to be even more successful than in previous years.

RADIO SOCIETY

HELEN PANABAKER INTRODUCES
BRUCE HAACK'S NEXT NUMBER.

JIM REDMOND—PRESIDENT.

The more than fifty members of the Radio Society took a big step forward, this year, with the inception of "Varsity Night" on CKUA. Students took over a full evening each Thursday to present programs for the entertainment and information of both Varsity students and the general public. Regular broadcasts included campus sports and news reports, campus musical talent of all kinds, student reviewers with their criticisms of magazines, movies, radio and the arts, and the popular quiz show, "Champs—or Chumps?"

Included in the Society's activities, in addition to the "Varsity Night" programs, was an extensive schedule of other broadcasts of University functions and special events.

Besides the actual broadcasting activities, training members for future radio work was also given consideration. A number of Edmonton's leading radio figures were invited to give talks and instruction, on all phases of radio broadcasting, to members of the Society.

DEBATING SOCIETY

The three undertakings directed by the Debating Society this year were relatively successful in arousing the interest of students in the art of debating and very successful in the staging of many full-dress presentations, the calibre of which was enviable.

The Hugill Trophy, emblematic of Inter-faculty debating supremacy, was won this year, after gruelling trials through a round-robin series, by Dave McDonald and Jim Redmond who upheld the affirmative of the resolution, "Resolved that Television is a Benefit to Society", against Joe Brumlik and Bill Wood. The debate was interesting, hard-fought and humorous. Presentation of the Trophy was made on Color Night.

The debaters representing Alberta in the Western Universities Debating League were very proficient this year. Although they did not win the coveted McGoun Trophy, they nonetheless emerged from the contests with two split decisions in their favor. Lorne Calhoun and Sidney Lindstedt upheld the affirmative of the resolution "Resolved that the activities of Labor Unions are a detriment to Canada's welfare," which was debated in Convocation Hall in January. Terry Nugent and Carroll Wenaas formed the negative team which went to the University of British Columbia.

The Debating Union, in its second year of existence as a parliamentary-form debate, was staged on three occasions with varying degrees of attendance but always with a maximum of participation on the part of those students present. The value of this form of debate as an introduction to parliamentary procedure is rapidly being realized and it will undoubtedly become more important.

It is hoped that more students will take advantage of the Debating Society to develop debating qualities which are so essential to any leader of a profession or of a community.

MUSICAL CLUB

Musical Club wishes to take this opportunity to thank all those who participated in these excellent performances.

This year the Musical Club undertook a new programme of activities. Since the Students' Union Building was so appealing it was decided that the concerts would be a greater success if held in the Mixed Lounge at four o'clock, instead of at nine o'clock in Convocation Hall. The results were most encouraging and it is hoped that next year the Club will carry on the work already started.

Before Christmas, the Club sponsored one hour of classical music which was broadcast from the record booth to the Mixed Lounge. Besides this, one "live" programme was presented each month. The concerts themselves were very informal and they were of a very high calibre, with many members, and other organizations, taking part in them. The

The International Relations Club, under the energetic leadership of President Joe Brumlik, was again active in filling its important position on the campus. Each year, the Club attempts to clarify important political problems on the international level and to arouse more student interest in these problems. This year the Club sponsored several eminent lecturers who were well acquainted with the various aspects of international affairs.

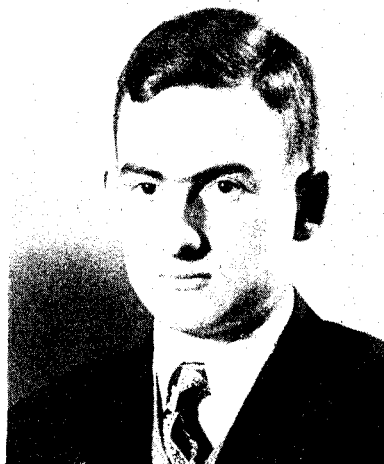

Viscount De Guerny, representative of the London News Chronicle in Stockholm, spoke on political conditions, particularly the East-West struggle, in Europe. Some of the other important lecturers were Dr. Hans J. Morganthau, a Professor at the University of Chicago, speaking on the conduct of American foreign policy and Mr. S. Risk, prominent American sociologist, who discussed recent developments in Israel.

Several other meetings were held and many interesting discussions took place. It is hoped that these worthwhile lectures by such qualified men can be continued next year as a means of enabling the students to further their knowledge of the world's political difficulties and to better fulfill their role as citizens.

The Light and Sound Crew is a seldom heard of, but nevertheless important organization in the life of campus activities. From the first day of registration until the last announcement is made during the final examinations the Light and Sound Crew is behind the scenes, planning, setting up, operating and removing the various pieces of equipment that is so necessary for the success of any event.

Equipment in the Light and Sound storeroom is now valued at close to one thousand dollars and each year new units are added. But no matter how good the equipment, the final success of the Crew is dependent upon the members themselves.

Sincere thanks go to Bob Mason, Lawrence Burgess, Roland Reader, Dan Sokaluk, John Cox and the permanent office staff for their untiring efforts throughout the year.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

The Public Speaking Club, each year, tries to promote public speaking in the various faculties on the campus. This year the club was very active and two of the huts were required for the meetings. The members gave talks on various topics, gradually increasing their length, so that they might become accustomed to talking before an audience. Later in the year, speeches were made in the Education auditorium. Tape recordings were also made so that members could correct their mistakes in pronunciation and tone. Even the banquet which was held, combined work and relaxation, since each member made an after-dinner speech.

Mr. J. McIntyre, an Edmonton business man, has served as critic for the club for the past five years. His keen interest in public speaking has been of untold value to the club and, in recognition of his services, the University, this year, awarded him an honorarium.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

This proved to be another banner year for the Political Science Club. In an attempt to create new interest in political matters among the students here, the Club sponsored several speakers on topics concerning current political questions. Some of the highlights included students' forums and addresses on such subjects as "How to Become a Successful Politician" and "What a Career in the Public Service Has to Offer."

Special interest was shown in a forum, featuring speakers from three political parties, on "The UN as a Basis for World Government." CKUA recorded the proceedings for a later broadcast.

The constitution of the Parliamentary Forum was redrafted, and it is hoped that this important part of the Club's activities will be returned to the campus next year. The future of the Club looks bright and with continued student support it can be bigger and better than ever.

OUTDOOR CLUB

Despite a somewhat late start, the Outdoor Club again achieved its usual popularity on the campus. Under the guidance of Gord Gilson, ably assisted by Paul Coughlan and Raina Yanda, the Club succeeded in re-establishing itself at its new home. The cabin was given a complete clean-up, and with the help of regular Sunday work parties a new tobogan slide was built. The stairs, which formerly were so proudly displayed at the old hill, were moved to the new location.

Social Convener, Jean Brickman, created further club unity with organized Sunday evening parties at the cabin, featuring skating on the river, toboganing and dancing. An informal fall dance, held in the Main Lounge of the Students' Union Building, was very well attended. A final special feature of the year was the Winter Weekend, held in February, which featured a dance, cabin jam sessions, toboganing and skiing.

Walter Beaumont, B.A., LL.D., of Edmonton, was the Honorary President, and as such was a source of guidance and inspiration to all fledgling pilots.

University Flying Club members are also members of the Royal Canadian Flying Clubs Association and receive many benefits from this association. Graduates who obtained their licenses through the Club report that they are a distinct advantage in the working world.

Facilities of the Edmonton Flying Club were used for flying training and proved very satisfactory. Seven members obtained their flying licenses during the term, and others are expecting to complete their training during the summer.

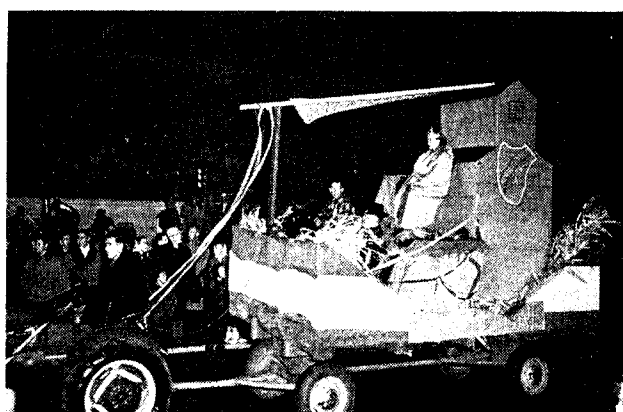

Besides the flying training, members took part in several highly enjoyable social events, during the term, at the Edmonton Flying Club.

Although registration in the Faculty of Agriculture dropped considerably this year, the Agricultural Club continued its former ambitious program.

Starting with Freshman Introduction, the Club, led by President Ron Harvie, continued with a variety of functions. Some, such as general Club meetings, the Informal and Formal dances and the Banquet were for Agricultural students only. Not satisfied with this, the Ags also presented the informal Harvest Hop in the fall and the highly informal Bar-None in the spring for the benefit of the general University body. The second annual Visitor's Day, held to publicize the Faculty and the University, was attended by nearly 2,000 people. The Ags also published a special edition of the Gateway to further acquaint the students throughout Alberta with the Faculty.

The Graduating Banquet, held in the Macdonald, was attended by students, professors and business men and provided a fitting ending to the year's activities.

The Education Undergraduate Society, under the capable leadership of President Henry Thomasson, completed another active year. Besides the many academic activities and assemblies, the E.U.S. sponsored a number of social activities. These began with the Frosh Mixer, in the early fall, when the first year students were given a chance to meet the faculty members and their fellow undergraduates. This was followed by the annual Hawaiian Quarter which was enjoyed, not only by Education students but by students from other faculties as well. The annual Dinner and Dance, in the spring term, was well attended and was acclaimed the best ever.

A Student Teachers' conference which took place during the year, was considered very beneficial to all those who attended and was very much appreciated.

The E.U.S. also participated energetically in Inter-faculty sports, including soccer, basketball, volley ball, swimming and hockey.

The year was one of the most enjoyable so far, and we only hope that next year can be equally successful.

With President Andrew Stewart serving as Honorary President, as its outstanding claim to fame, the Commerce Club has had another healthy year, under the leadership of Alan Fitzsimmons and an active executive.

A fine beginning was made to the season's activities with the newly-originated Bankers' Ball which was the first open dance to be held in the Students' Union Building. The usual, congenial smokers came off with huge success and the feminine section of the Club held a Tea party. The big event of the year was, of course, the Formal, which lived up to all expectations and to other formals in the past.

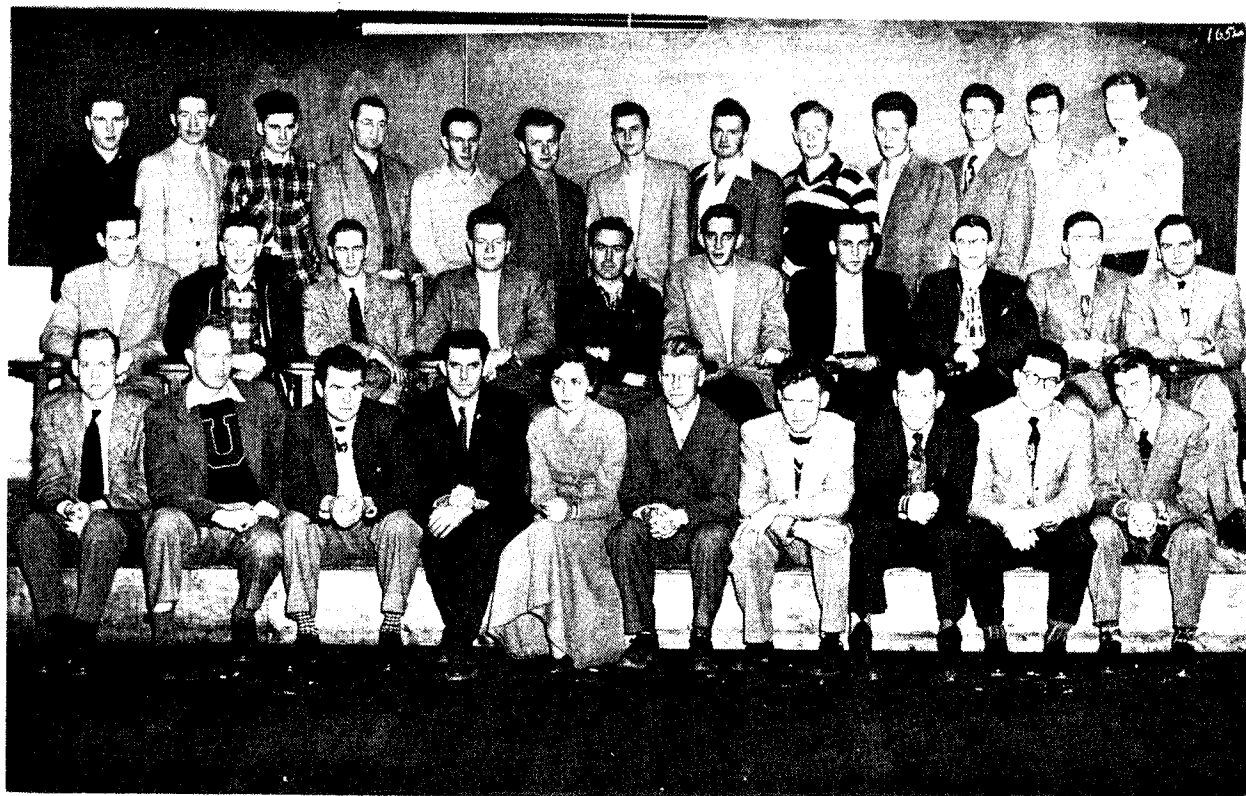

Giving liberally of his time and assistance to the Club again this term, both in the realm of social events and in the employment field for graduating students, was Professor J. D. Campbell, the inimitable backbone of the accounting department.

THE ENGINEERS—THE PRIZE-WINNING FLOAT AT THE FOOTBALL PARADE.

As is typical of the Engineering Faculty, this session again saw many successful Engineering Students' Society activities. The beginning of the term was marked by a smoker at which Dean Hardy addressed the Freshmen. In October the Engineers won the Ag Club trophy for the best float in the football parade, with a smoking oil derrick, complete with light and sound effects. In the athletic field the Oilers and the Slide-rulers distinguished themselves at hockey and basketball and the Engineers again captured the soccer trophy.

The main event of the year was the annual Engineers' Ball, at which lovely Joyce Bannerman reigned supreme over a highly decorated "Engineers Valhalla".

In an effort to keep the students in touch with developments in their profession a series of prominent engineers gave lectures at the regular bi-monthly meetings.

The annual banquet was held in the spring to complete the year's activities. Several awards were made and best wishes went out to all for success as "Builders of tomorrow's civilization."

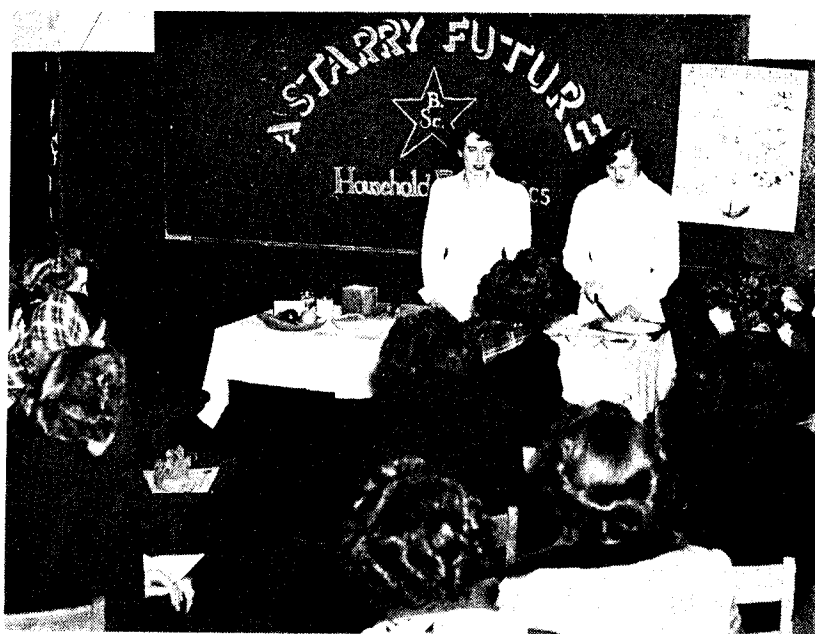

THE CIVILS' DISPLAY AT THE ENGINEERS' BALL.

The first major function of the Household Economics Club was a Fall Fashion Show in which House Eccer's displayed their cooking ability at the tea served and proved that glamour is their business as well.

The annual dance was held in Athabaska Dining Hall. French maids and champagne glasses highlighted the French night club theme carried out in the decorations.

In March the House Eccer's co-sponsored the Ag Field Day. Cooking and sewing demonstrations gave visitors a quick, but effective, view of what we can accomplish.

The Medical Undergraduate Society, under the capable leadership of President George Molar, completed a very active year.

The year began with a business meeting and regular film meetings were held throughout the year, with many valuable and interesting films on medical and surgical subjects being shown. Guest speakers were also present at some of the meetings.

The Meds entered their usual gory float in the Football parade and were well up in the competitions.

The annual Med Night, one of the most hilarious evenings on the campus, was held again this year. Despite the fact that attendance was limited to members of the medical and nursing profession because of the nature of the skits, over 1400 ambitious Medical students attended.

Dr. Hepburn, who was retiring, was guest speaker at the Banquet and Ball held at the MacDonald. Dr. John Ower, who is also retiring, was presented with a medallion, in appreciation of his many services to the Society.

P H A R M A C Y C L U B

Although the School of Pharmacy is the smallest department on the campus, the Pharmacy Club has always taken its share of honours in varsity activities. Last term was no exception and Pharmacy students were active in nearly all of the sports on the campus. In many of these, such as tennis, badminton, wrestling and cross country running the Club members hold championships. The hockey, basketball and curling teams were well up in their league standings as well.

The year's Club activities opened with a general meeting at which the first year members of the School were introduced and given a chance to become acquainted with the rest of the members of the department. An informal party was held in November, in the true Pharmacy fashion.

The big event of the year, the Pharmacy Ball, was held at the Macdonald. This was one of the outstanding social functions, where all members of the profession can get together.

The B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation at Alberta, one of the many in North America, completed a very successful year. This organization, headed by President David Blazouske and comprising the Jewish students on the campus, has a three-fold religious, cultural and social program. Under the cancellorship of Rabbi B. Leon Hurwitz, Hillel has been active in furthering inter-racial and inter-religious goodwill on the campus.

Some of the year's activities have been monthly brunches, at which several informative lectures were given. Meeting twice monthly were groups interested in musical appreciation, Zionism and the Hebrew language. Rabbi Hurwitz gave a series of weekly lectures on comparative religion, which were open to all students. The University also sponsored two lectures given by the Rabbi.

This year, for the first time, a printed eight-page newspaper, containing news items, pictures and literary contributions, was published, and was much enjoyed.

NEWMAN CLUB

"Sunday Night is Newman Night" was the slogan that brought 175 Catholic members together for many enjoyable evenings in St. Joseph Club-rooms.

Spiritual activities began with the annual Fall Retreat and continued throughout the term. The Club Choir assisted at Holy Mass every Sunday and many members observed the Lenten season with daily Mass and Communion. A pilgrimage to the city churches was made in March.

Intellectual needs were filled by a series of lectures and debates. Chief among these were the religious instruction classes and a Preparation for Marriage course. Films were presented and the library provided excellent reading material.

Among the social functions were the Hallowe'en, Christmas and Old-time parties, bowling, skating, sing-songs and many other games and activities.

It has been a very enjoyable year, but now we must say "Good-bye" until next term, when again Sunday Night will be Newman Night.

UNIVERSITY RESERVE TRAINING SQUADRON

SQUADRON LEADER LEONARD GADS
Officer Commanding the Reserve
University Flight

"Last call for flight leaving for London, Ontario. All passengers report immediately."

This was the call for thirty-four Flight Cadets from the University of Alberta who flew by Dakota aircraft to London, Ontario, where they joined flights from eight other Canadian Universities.

In Indoctrination Training was offered at London for the first eight weeks, public speaking, organization and leadership, geopolitics, personnel information and personnel services, and a thorough sports programme rounded out the training. A graduation parade with Air Marshall Curtis taking the salute and a mess dinner for three hundred was held June 29th.

After the Indoctrination Training the Flight Cadets were posted to various R.C.A.F. Stations in Ontario where they received specialized training in branches of the R.C.A.F. which corresponded to their University courses. Armament training was offered at Trenton, radar and communications at Clinton, aeronautical engineering at Camp Borden, and administration took the limelight at London.

Six cadets were posted to Air Transport Command at Rockliffe to learn the science of processing films and making mosaic maps, while another cadet was chosen to work in co-operation with the Defence Research Board at Whitehorse in carrying out "Operation Flybite."

All cadets reported a worthwhile summer, especially those stationed in Eastern Canada who were able to take advantage of long week-ends to make trips to such points as Buffalo, Detroit and Chicago.

CANADIAN OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

LT.-COL. H. J. BISHOP
Acting Commanding Officer

MAJOR J. E. PINCOCK
Resident Staff Officer

The University of Alberta Contingent of the Canadian Officers Training Corps commenced the 1950-51 varsity year with a decided major improvement over any other period in their long history. The C.O.T.C., together with the R.C.A.F. Reserve Flight, moved into their newly constructed, spacious quarters in the University Drill Hall.

Although a well established organization since the first World War, the C.O.T.C. embarked upon an entirely new program in 1946. Under this program selected University students may qualify for a Lieutenant's Commission by undergoing instruction in Theoretical training during two University sessions and taking two summers' Practical training at various army schools. A third year of training is available for students wishing to qualify for the rank of Captain.

This year 85 students returned from summer training to continue their Theoretical courses under Major J. E. Pincock the Resident Staff Officer, and various members of the University Faculties. New applicants were selected after Christmas and were given preparatory courses during February and March.

Several staff changes took place during the year. Lt.-Col. H. J. Bishop, an Edmonton lawyer and a U. of A. graduate took temporary command of the Contingent, replacing Lt.-Col. D. M. Healy, who is on sabbatical leave in Europe. Capt. John Heath, M.C., formerly of the English Department here, joined the Canadian Army Special Force and his place was taken by Capt. G. H. Reed of the Faculty of Law.

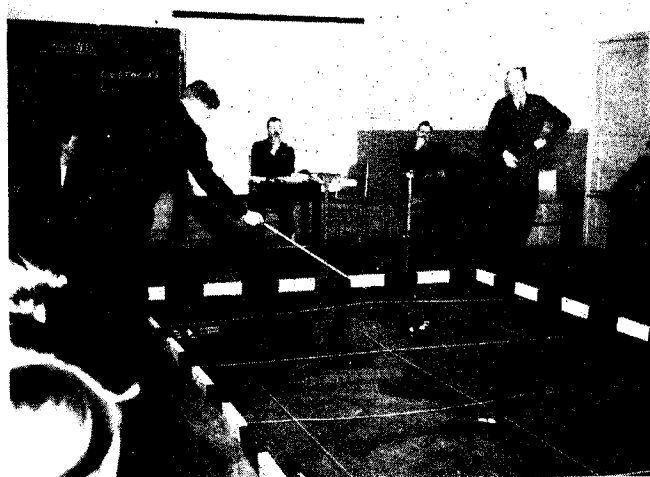

Interest in military matters was keen and the Contingent experienced a most successful year.

At the conclusion of winter training in the spring of 1950, forty Cadets made the trip to the Reserve Training Establishment at Esquimalt, B.C.. Cadet George Gauthier was sent to Halifax to take further electrical courses at the Electrical School there. The frigates H.M.C.S. "Beacon Hill" and "Antigonish" were assigned to cadet training at Esquimalt and all cadets spent at least a month aboard these frigates or the cruiser H.M.C.S. "Ontario", putting to practical use the facts and theories learned in the classroom.

Seven Alberta cadets received their commission as Sub Lieutenants during the summer. Perhaps Sub Lieutenant Bill Jackson, RCN(R) was the most travelled product of the Alberta Division. Bill volunteered to go with the destroyer assigned to the United Nations forces in Korea and had a lively summer. We were glad to have him back as an instructor in the winter term.

The Gunroom Committee, which administers the social activities of the Division, was headed by Cadet N. Reiber as President. Assisting him were Cadets L. G. Stolee and M. Pundick.

To those cadets who are graduating we wish success in their careers, feeling confident that their service training will add materially to their qualifications for professional leadership, whether in the service or in civilian life.

SPORTS

The Big Block Club is the honorary men's athletic society on the campus, membership in which is the highest athletic award at Alberta. Membership is awarded on a basis of prolonged outstanding ability and good sportsmanship in an intercollegiate sport.

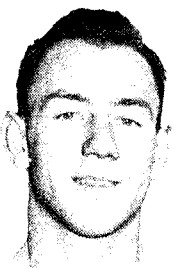

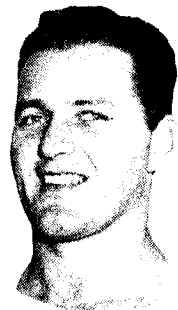

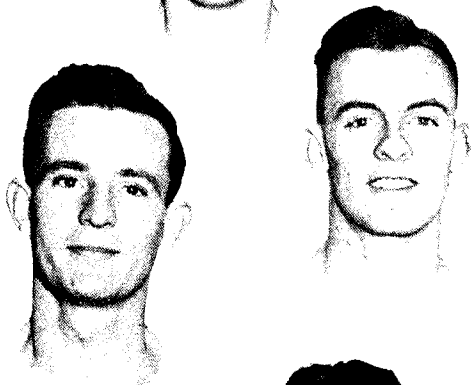

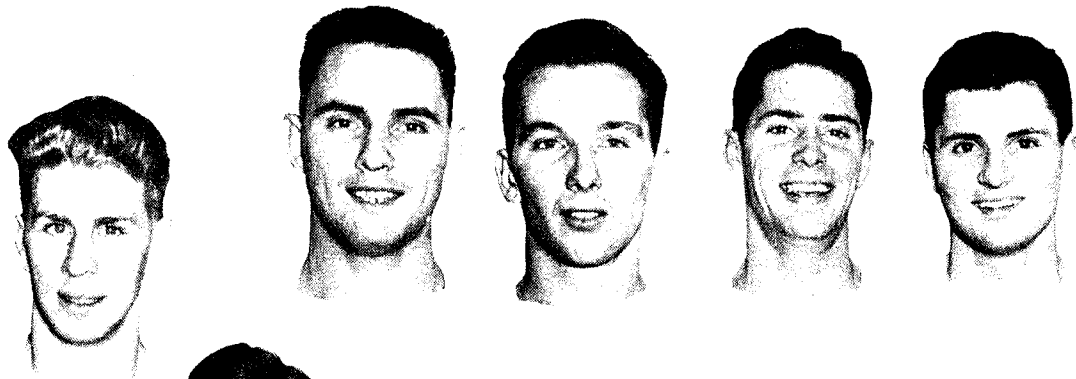

The Club's aim, in addition to presenting sweater and ring awards to its members, is to foster and promote athletic endeavors both on and off the campus. In this regard it has sponsored high school basketball tournaments and ski-meets in Edmonton each winter.

Sponsored by the Big Block Club also are two of the most popular social attractions, the annual Sweater Dance and Color Night.

THIRD ROW: G. PETERSON (Manager), H. TESKEY, O. NIELSON, E. LUCHT, D. MacINTOSH, A. ANDERSON AND DR. M. L. VAN VLIET (Coach).

W.C.I.A.U. Basketball Champs

The 1950-51 edition of the Bears, with newcomers making up half of their ranks, developed into a high calibre aggregation that displayed some excellent basketball form over the season. The experienced hand of coach Van Vliet, aided by four-year captain McLachlan, moulded a group of players into a very well-balanced ball club. With the wealth of experience gained on the Montana-Wyoming trip, along with the other games making up their 20-game season, they should be a very ominous threat for the Canadian College Championship next year. The Bears' plans for next year include entering Dominion playdowns or College competitions in order to get a chance to compete for the right to represent Canada in the 1952 Olympic Games.

SIoux CITY COLORED GHOSTS VS. GOLDEN BEARS.

Perhaps the highlights of the year were the Bears' ability to topple the Northern contenders for the Provincial crown whenever the two teams clashed, and the U.S.A. trip, which, although not so fruitful from the winning ledger, gave the boys a real lesson in clutch basketball.

No one individual can be picked out as a consistent star of the team. Looking at the separate series, however, we must point at big six-foot-six centre, Ed Lucht, as the star of the Montana games. Steve Mendryk took the limelight in the Wyoming victory, and Captain Gord McLachlan proved particularly effective in any of the games played against the Meteors. High-scoring Don MacIntosh must be mentioned for his commanding lead in that all important points scored column, and jump-shot artist Don Newton takes the eye of many as the most promising young guard for future Golden Bear squads.

(City Basketball Champs)

The Varsity Bearcats, under the coaching of Don Smith, finished out the 1950-51 basketball season at the top of the ladder. Playing in the five-team Junior men's city league, the 'Cats played eight league games and several exhibition tilts without a loss. This was made possible by the hard work of the team and the driving spirit of the captain, Jim Day. In the final game against St. Anthony's, Loran Pilling set a new record for the Junior League by netting 32 points.

Unfortunately, the team was not able to enter the provincial playdowns because of the proximity of the final exams, but even so the Bearcats chalked up an enviable record.

CUBS

Because of the increased interest in basketball among the co-eds this year, two teams were formed in October. Both teams, the Pandas and the Cubs, entered the Edmonton Senior Ladies' basketball loop, and while both played the "A" teams at the beginning of the year the Cubs later competed only against the "B" teams, where they were more evenly matched.

The Cubs' play in the league games met with mixed results, but in general they gave a good account of themselves, obtaining valuable basketball experience and a lot of fun at the same time. The end of the year found the Cubs tied for second place in the "B" division of the Senior league.

THE PANDAS

PANDAS IN ACTION AGAINST HUSKIES.

This year's edition of the Pandas entered, and finished second, in the Edmonton Women's Senior "A" Basketball League. Even though eligible for the playoffs the team withdrew because the players could not afford the time away from studies necessary for practices and games.

The University of Saskatchewan Huskiettes trimmed the Pandas in a closely-fought two-game total point series played in the Varsity gym. The Pandas dropped the first game by a score of 55 to 40 and the second 48 to 37.

On the week-end of January 19th the Pandas made their annual trip to Calgary. While there they defeated the Faculty of Education 29 to 19 and the Mount Royal College team by a decisive 33 to 11 score.

Joan McFarlane and Neta Mercer were the two most outstanding players on the team. In the Women's Senior League Neta finished second and Joan fourth.

BADMINTON

The University Badminton Club commenced playing the first week in October. This year's interclub tourney was held early to decide the team which would represent the University at Saskatchewan. Team members were Marg Visser, Lucille Beingessner, Nancy Collinge, Henry Publicover, Peter Wilson and Clarence Emard. Through a fast and hard series with the Saskatchewanites, the men emerged victorious, but with Saskatchewan's superior power in the Women's section, the Albertans were forced to return minus the Walker trophy, the symbol of inter-varsity supremacy.

Other activities of the club included a playing-social with the Edmonton Badminton Club as guests, and two representative teams in the Provincial Badminton Tournament, which was held at the Edmonton Badminton Club.

GOLF AND TENNIS

University of Saskatchewan athletes repeated their annual fall dominance in the golf competition by gaining victory over Alberta in a close 36-hole competition. Playing on Edmonton's Mayfair Golf Course, both teams had two men and three women competitors. Alberta's entries in the male team were Jim Beatty and Earl Lomas, while the women players were Betty Ann Loveseth, Fran Farley and Marg Robinson.

The men's competition was extremely close with a tie resulting in match play. It was decided to determine the winner on a medal basis and Saskatchewan's team was victorious by one stroke.

Our women's team did not fare so well against the U. of S. representatives who collected 64 out of a possible 78 points allotted in the competition for the Birks Challenge trophy.

With the experience of this year's play behind them, we are confident that the Alberta team will be even tougher competition in next year's meet.

Even though the cold, windy weather hampered turnouts greatly, Alberta's tennis coach, Elaine Fildes, had little difficulty choosing this year's IntersVarsity Tennis Team. Men's singles representatives were Frank Oliver and Sterling Haynes, while Nancy Collinge and Evelyn Linke represented Alberta in the Women's singles. For the doubles, Miss Fildes chose the winning combination of Linke and Flora Morrison in the women's division and Haynes and Don MacIntosh in the men's section.

Against our men's team, Saskatchewan put up Tom Jackson and Don McKay, who singly and combined swept the Men's events. In retaliation, U. of A.'s femmes overcame the hard-fighting Saskatchewan girls in winning style.

After the straight events the teams were tied at three matches each. Thus the deciding factor was the mixed doubles, in which Saskatchewan's Pat Lawson and Tom Jackson teamed up against Alberta's Collinge and MacIntosh. This feature attraction was a rousing, closely fought three setter in which the Saskatchewan team took a 2 to 1 decision.

Thus, with the playing of the last point of the last set the prairie-landers edged out the Albertans to again take the IntersVarsity Tennis laurels back to Saskatchewan.

CURLING

The University Curling Club was founded on the campus during the 1945-46 term and since then has blossomed into one of the largest participant sports on the campus. Each year it plays off for the Mathews Shield, the Intermural award donated by Dr. W. W. Mathews in the first year of the club's existence.

Every week day of the term, some of the club's 250 members were throwing rocks and sweeping at the Granite Curling Rink.

In the Intersvarsity Curling our men's team took the honours, but our women bowed to a strong U. of S. team skipped by Mary Campbell.

SKIING

Although overpowered by the superior experience of American teams, the University of Alberta ski team gave a fine showing in the downhill event of the annual International Collegiate Ski Meet at Banff this year.

Hugh Morrish and Hugh Goodman, both of Edmonton, did well in the downhill race. Morrish placed 23rd with a time of 2:04.1 and Goodman was 24th with a time of 2:05.6.

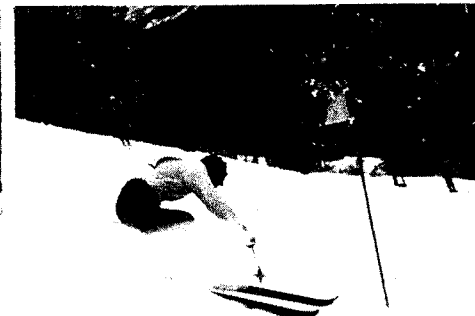

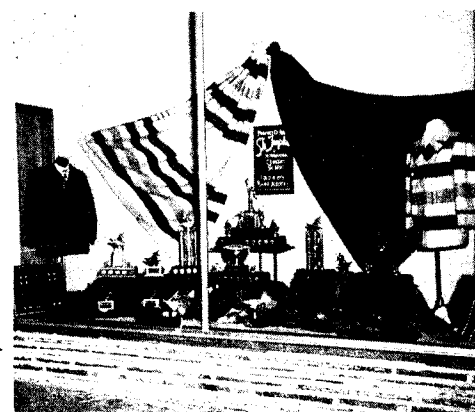

Linc Moore, also of Edmonton, was the finest jumper on the Alberta team and although outclassed by the Washington jumpers, proved that Alberta skiers with experience can compete in jumping events with the top U.S. varsity skiers.

Other members of the team representing Alberta were Neil Harvie, Chuck Hantho, Nick Romalo, John Mayland, Lorne Clapson and Lloyd Pinkey.

Under the expert guidance of coach Art Wiebe the '50-51 edition of the Bears had one of the most successful seasons to date. With such stars as Jim Fleming, Joe Moran and Ed Zukiwisky in action the Bears won both the Hardy Trophy and the Hamber Trophy emblematic of Western Canada Intercollegiate Hockey supremacy.

The Bears started the season by playing to a 4-4 tie with the strong Edmonton Oil Kings junior team. Then the Bears played host to the U.B.C. Thunderbirds and won the Hamber Trophy in two games with scores of 3-3 and 4-2. The Bears then played an exhibition game with the World's Amateur Champions, the Edmonton Mercurys, and lost 5-2 in a well-played close-checking game. The Bears next journeyed to Saskatoon to play the ever-powerful U. of S. Huskeys for the newly-donated Hardy Cup.

The Bears lost the inevitable first game by a score of 6-5 and also the second, this time 4-3. The scene changed to Edmonton, where the Bears came roaring back to win the next three games and the cup by scores of 5-1, 4-0 and 5-2 respectively. This marked the 16th time that the Bears have won the annual series with the Huskies.

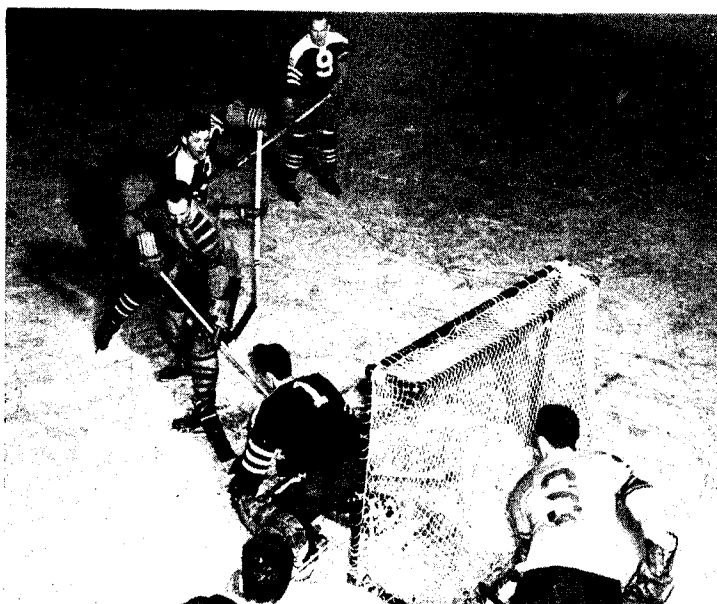

The Bears climaxed their successful season with a trip to Colorado, playing two games with Colorado College at Colorado Springs and two with the University of Denver at Denver. Alberta lost both games to Colorado College by scores of 7-3 and 8-7, but fared better against Denver by taking 5-4 and 8-7 decisions.

It is hoped that the teams of following years will enjoy the successes of the 1950-51 Golden Bears and will continue to carry Alberta colors to more championships.

BOXING AND WRESTLING

Every Tuesday and Thursday, members of the Boxing Club came from their corners fighting, always under the capable training of Coach Randall Murray. The vigorous training campaign which commenced the year paid off when the U. of A. brought home both the Howe boxing award and the Nielson trophy, symbol of aggregate boxing-wrestling honours, from the annual Assault-at-Arms at Saskatchewan. Feather-weight Malcolm Asplund was awarded the Beaumont trophy, symbolic of the person who had contributed most to the advancement of the Boxing Club.

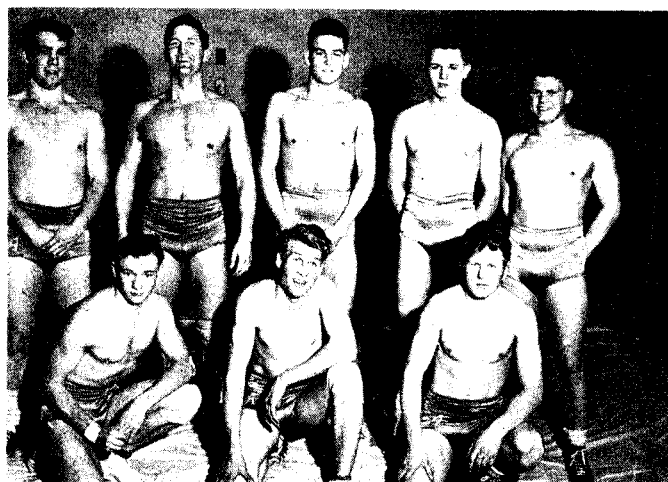

With the coaching of veteran Ben Oliver, the Wrestling Club progressed to a state where Alberta became a very respected competitor in any of the matches in which it entered.

In the first trial, which was against Montana, the team lost by only a narrow margin. The Club entrants for the City championships, which were held afterwards, walked away with five of the awards.

In all, the Club, with its thirty-five regulars, enjoyed a most successful season, and it is to be hoped that it can do as well next year.

FENCING AND ARCHERY

The Fencing Club of 1950-51, though few in numbers, was certainly enthusiastic. Veteran fencers and newcomers alike were carefully watched and trained by playing Raina Yanda.

This year's Inter-varsity Fencing Team consisted of Raina Yanda (coach), Helen Eckert, Georgina Fedoruk, Roman Yanda, Dick Bradshaw and Vince Penfold. Even though they put up a determined fight, and despite the excellent showing made by Raina Yanda and Helen Eckert, the team was defeated by a stronger Saskatchewan aggregation. Thus, the Millman Trophy will remain on the trophy shelf of the University of Saskatchewan for another year.

The Archery Club has this year done much to promote the interest of this old and valiant sport on the campus. Through practice sessions, inter-club competitions and matches with other Archery Clubs in the city better style and greater accuracy were achieved by most of the members.

A National Round Tournament was played during the season, and Jim Dennis came out on top, with Walter Komhyr second.

TUMBLING AND SWIMMING

Activity was the key-word for this year's Swimming Club, as the members turned out for practice each week at the Y.W.C.A. pool.

In the Men's Intersivity Meet, held at Saskatchewan, the University of Saskatchewan took the Griffiths trophy, thus ending Alberta's three years of supremacy. Bob Duthie and Peter Epp, two outstanding men from Alberta, were sidelined with flu and thus couldn't participate in the meet.

This year's Tumbling Club was a bang-up success, with twenty faithful participants. There were thirteen new members, with an excellent representation from the fairer sex.

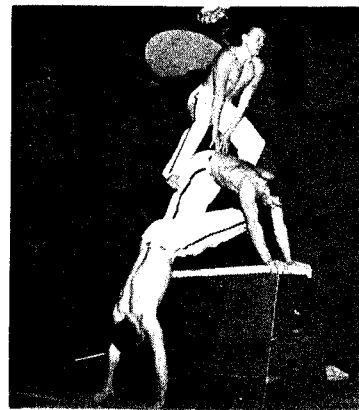

Displays were given at the Women's Week-end and Athletic Night, featuring tumbling, balancing and adagio dancing. Next year the club hopes for an even greater turnout, for this is an activity which is enjoyed by all.

INTERFACULTY SPORTS

Interfaculty sports had an active year, with three major competitions during the term. The first was in the soccer league, the champions being the Engineers.

Basketball started operations in November and ran until the third week of February. Twelve teams comprised the league and competitions were intense in all games. The Engineering entries dominated the play throughout most of the series and ended up in the playoffs facing each other, when the Engineering "B" team walloped the "A" team in a two-game total point playoff.

Interfaculty Hockey got under way early in January and wound up in March. A record number of entries, totalling thirteen teams, made two leagues necessary. Close and exciting play was the order of the competitions, but the Education team finally defeated the Pharm-Dents to take the trophy.

The trophy for all Interfaculty sports was won by the Engineering Faculty, which was active in all fields of competition.

The Intramural Program at the University of Alberta is sponsored by the Department of Physical Education and is designed to give every male student at the University a chance to compete, in a variety of activities, against competitors of his own athletic ability.

The program includes competition in Golf, Tennis, Track and Field, Touch Football, Cross Country Running, Basketball, Volleyball, Badminton, Soccer, Table Tennis, and Hockey.

Over 1,300 students from seven fraternities, four residences, and four independent clubs took part in active competition during the 1950-51 season.

A number of trophies are awarded annually to the winners of the various events. This year the Kappa Sigma fraternity won the Henry Singer trophy for the group gaining the most points during the year, and Ted Allison won the Motor Car Supply Company trophy for the individual gaining the most points in Intramural competition.

WOMEN'S INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Over one-third of the girls on the campus participated in the women's Intramural sports program this year. In all, seven different sports were run off as Intramural events and very keen interest was shown, especially in the field of basketball.

This year a new and more comprehensive Intramural program was begun. Under the new organization, sororities and clubs could enter teams, as well as the Faculties. The result was a much larger participation and greater interest in women's Intramural athletics, which should continue to grow as more organizations begin to take advantage of the arrangement.

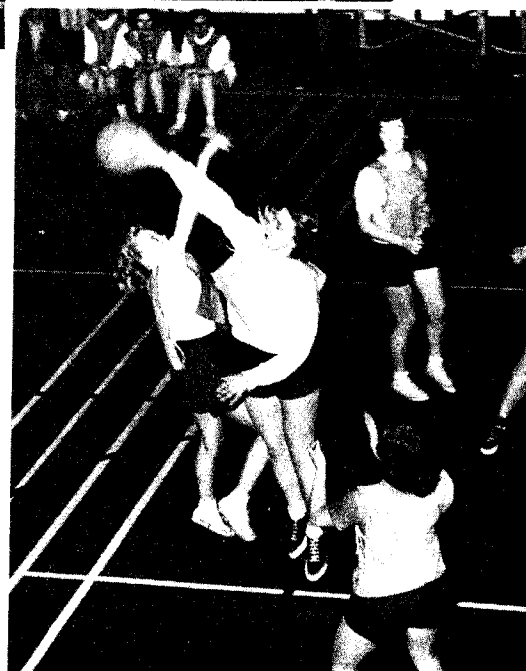

Each year the Faculty which has shown greatest interest in Intramural sports, as shown by participation and winning teams, is awarded the "Rose Bowl". This year the Faculty of Education, with winning teams in volleyball, swimming and basketball, was given the award, with Arts and Science filling a close second place.

WOMEN'S

As a means of fostering inter-Varsity competition between the girls of the Universities of Saskatchewan and Alberta, a series of three Women's Sports Week-ends were held at the two Universities during the month of February.

The first, which was held here, featured competition in the fields of basketball and curling. Saskatchewan co-eds took both the Cecil E. Race trophy, symbolic of basketball supremacy, and the Spooner trophy for curling. The first championship was decided by a two-game total point series, which the Huskiettes took 103 to 77. Saskatchewan also won two straight games in a three-game series to take the curling championship.

Our co-eds then went to Saskatchewan to decide badminton and fencing supremacy. Saskatchewan retained the Walker Badminton trophy by taking all events in the women's matches and a majority in the men's. Alberta girls won six out of nine fencing bouts, but Saskatchewan retained the Millman Fencing trophy because combined men's and women's bouts accounted for an 11 to 7 decision.

The last Women's Weekend, also held at Saskatchewan, decided the championships in volleyball, swimming and figure skating. Co-eds from Saskatchewan again won all of the major awards, including the Landa Volleyball trophy, the Felsted Memorial trophy for swimming, and the Irving Kline trophy for skating. Play in volleyball was very close, with Saskatchewan taking two games out of three. Saskatchewan walked away with all of the swimming events except two. The breast stroke was won by Muriel Clapp, and Alberta also won the medley relay. Arlene Jones, from Alberta, was the winner in the senior ladies' skating competitions, all other events being won by Saskatchewan's skaters.

Later in the month the girls forked out the change and made the dates for the annual Wauncita Formal. While speaking of girls, the Fall Fashion Show was as much a beauty parade as a display of the latest fashions in women's clothes.

November was ushered in with Alumni Homecoming Weekend, three days of activity designed to re-acquaint the students of former years with their alma mater. Highlight of the weekend was a roaring 'twenties variety show ably handled by Dick MacDonald.

With increasing interest in the return of football on the campus, debaters carried on a lively discussion on the subject in Convocation Hall.

As the month drew to a close, feverish activity heralded open season for fraternities to replenish their stock of pledges. Thus, a blaze of parties, punctuated occasionally by a November exam, caused many near-sleepless nights.

Nearly two thousand people, from widely-separated points, arrived on the campus for the Agricultural Club's Visitor Day. The Agricultural laboratories, the Household Economics departments and the University Farm were shown to the guests by members of the Faculty. A fine job in public relations was done, as prospective University students were given a chance to view the entire campus. Another Ag success was the highly informal Bar-None, now looked forward to as the last dance of the year. Over a thousand cowboys and gals were entertained in Western fashion at the Varsity corral.

Election campaigns were the most exciting in years, with four good candidates running for office, as President. Eighty per cent of the student body cast their ballots, to elect Peter Loughheed for President, in a close contest for the position.

Retiring Students' Union President, Mike O'Byrne, extended his thanks to all members of the Students' Union who had helped to make the year successful. Special thanks was extended to a very co-operative and hard working Students' Council. President elect Peter Loughheed then spoke, observing that the prospects for the coming year looked bright. The Mad Woman of Chaillot, staged in February by the University Studio Players, proved to be the best of their productions to date. The largest cast used, so far, combined both students and staff. Jean Giraudoux, as author, blended moods of cynicism, innocence, anger, and love into his work; thus presenting his message that the "little" men and women have the love and goodness to make the world happy but are being robbed of their freedom by ruthless capitalists. The only one capable of ridding Chaillot of these wolves is the Madwoman, who seems eccentric because she is so sanely-mad.

The first act opens at the Chez Francis, a Paris sidewalk cafe, where the prospector announces his discovery that oil lies beneath the city.

Surprising interruptions to the main plot occur as various members of the group of vagabonds appear. Here Ray Phipps, as street singer, renders a delightful two lines of La Belle Polonaise. When, finally, the financiers seriously discuss their plans for destroying Chaillot and Paris for the oil, they become indignant at another interruption by the Madwoman. Elizabeth Sterling Haynes, in this role, gave a convincing performance, which showed insight into this all-loving, innocent, child-like character.

The Prospector (Frank Keeping), the Baron (Pierre Duval), The Broker (Freeman Anderson), and the President (Henry Kreisel) discuss their scheme.

After the Countess persuades Pierre, who attempted to drown himself, that life is wonderful, the company of "little" people decide to tell the Madwoman that the world is no longer happy, as she supposes it to be. The shoe-lace peddler, Irma, the rag-picker, the doorman, the waiter, the deaf-mute and Pierre listen to her cunning plan to exterminate these plagues on the life that she loves. A subtle touch of humour, many of which frequented the play, occurs near the close of the first act, when the doorman drapes on the Madwoman an ermine collar, to which gesture she fondly retorts, "Thank you, my boy. It's rabbit."

Prospector: "Well . . . For heaven's sake, what's that?"

As the curtain goes up on Act 2 we see a grotesquely ornamented cellar. Here, among packing cases and bird cages, the Madwoman feeds both the hungry alley cats and the mice in her traps. When the action begins, the Countess, as she is called, is asking the sewer man to explain the secret of the moving stone which opens a trap-door. The sewer man, Kerry McCutcheon, lends an erie pallor to this scene.

Countess: "They're a lot of fools and so are you! You should have told me at once! How can you bear to live in a world of unhappiness? Where a man is not his own master? Are you cowards? All we have to do is to get rid of these men."

The Madwoman and her three "mad" friends at a strange tea-party, not unlike that of the Mad Hatter, decide to hold a trial in absentia for all the criminals. The Countess' simple logic is sustained here to overcome the simple chatter of her guests.

After much ado about the proper legal procedure, the rag-picker is chosen as attorney for the defence. His claim that "I know them to the bottom of their souls. I go through their garbage every day," settles his appointment.

Countess: "I know most secrets, of course. As a matter of fact, I have three magic words that will open any door that words can open. I have tried them all—in various tones of voice. They don't seem to work. And this is a matter of life and death."

The preliminary oath of "I swear to tell the truth . . ." arouses Mme. Josephine's reply to the rag-picker: "Nonsense, you're not a witness; you're an attorney. It's your duty to lie, conceal and distort everything and slander everybody." The defendant then goes on to make an ironical plea favoring the money-infested pimps. His King Midas attitude leads

The Countess, Irma (Elenor Meyer) and the Madwoman of Passy (Eileen Scargill) who showed vivid imagination by pampering her little dog, long since dead. She accuses the others of petting him, as she says, "When I only pretend that the dog is here, and really I've left him at home."

him to say, "I am the law. When I speak, that is the law. I propose to make war! I propose to conquer the world!"

A change in the mood adds an air of suspense as the Madwoman's friends leave her alone to carry out the death sentence. In a brief respite, the Countess relaxes before the ordeal, only to dream of her lost lover, Adolphe Bertdud. Elizabeth Haynes' outstanding command of her role was again evident in this

Countess: "Suppose I get these wicked men all here at once in my cellar—have I the right to exterminate them?"

Mme. Josephine, the Madwoman of La Concorde (Elsie Park Gowan), adds her first class brain to the plot "You can't kill anybody without a trial."

struggle to free her mind from reminiscences of the past.

With Irma's excited announcement that the procession of limousines and taxis were coming, the Madwoman confidently assumes her role as executor. She tricks every one of the villains into descending the secret steps to find oil. They greedily obey, unaware that they shall never return from the endless, dismal passages of the cellar. Succeeding the so-called presidents, the prospectors and the press agents to their death, three soulless women enter to state their claim

Mme. Josephine opens the mock court.

in the new business: "Nothing succeeds without our assistance."

With the Madwoman's explanation to Irma that the Wickedness has evaporated, the "little" people return to rejoice. Blended with strains of unearthly music, the Countess hears the grateful voices of animals, flowers and the friendly people. Then, remembering that she and her lover hesitated to seize the happiness which would have been theirs, she orders the two lovers to kiss: "Kiss him, Irma; kiss him while there is time, or in a moment his hair will be white and there will be another madwoman in Paris." "And next time," the Madwoman tells her friends, "don't wait until things get so black. There's nothing wrong in the world that a sensible woman can't set right in the course of an afternoon."

The Ragpicker (Grant Reddick), placed the trial scene on a high pitch with his eloquent oration thus gaining a reaction of utter contempt against the crook-financiers.

The Madwoman's closing speech reveals the satire pointed at civilization. "My poor cats must be starved. What a bore for them if humanity had to be saved every afternoon. They don't think much of it as it is."

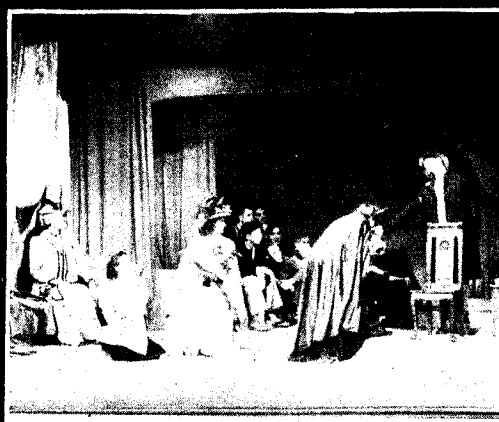

By means of this play, as well as four others produced this year, the University Studio Players have "Guilty!" The spontaneous verdict brings this scene to a stirring climax.

been able to fulfill their purpose of presenting worthwhile plays for discriminating audiences of students and Alberta citizens. In this provision of a fully-equipped theatre for drama classes, a great need for authentic acting is realized. and technicians, by repeated performances. The Theatre trains students in the mechanics of drama such as make-up, lighting, properties and scenery, so they may later contribute leadership to communities throughout the province. Thus, the Studio Theatre adds culture to our life on the campus.

SUGAR Beef!

Here's a steer obviously Red Label from stem to stern. Why do we call him Sugar Beef? Because he is one of thousands of such cattle that are a direct result of the sugar beet industry of Southern Alberta. You see, sugar is not the only product of the sugar beet. Livestock feeds of amazing productivity result from both field and factory processing. The result is that more food energy comes from an acre of sugar beets than from any other Canadian crop. A further result is that you enjoy better meat, the farmer enjoys a more balanced farm program, and the West contributes to its own richness. All because you LOOK FOR THE MAPLE LEAF on the bag of sugar you buy.

Best Wishes to the 1950 Graduate

Edmonton, the Gateway to the North, is located in the centre of Alberta, surrounded by rich farm land, vast coal and natural gas reserves, as well as an ever enlarging oil industry.

Railways, highways and air routes branch in every direction from this city to provide all the necessary transportation and communication for its increasing number of commercial and industrial enterprises.

Edmonton is well equipped educationally, for besides the University of Alberta, it has fifty-six schools for primary and secondary education and for the industrial arts.

Edmonton invites you to take advantage of its many opportunities and link your future with that of this ever enlarging centre.

WHEN CRAFTSMANSHIP COUNTS

Despite all advances in manufacturing techniques and the ever-increasing application of science to the production of farm equipment, the human element is still a big factor in the quality of the final product. For example, no mechanical substitute has yet been devised for the experience and "know how" required for a first class job of polishing plow shares and moldboards. At Cockshutt's, where quality is a first consideration, master craftsmanship continues to play its important part in making Cockshutt implements "the finest that money can buy."

A good man to know

This is an invitation to every undergraduate, and particularly to those who, this year, will leave the University, to enter the world of business. It is an invitation to use the many services available to you through this institution.

You will quickly discover that your local Royal Bank branch is far more than a place to deposit your funds, or to obtain loans for desirable purposes. Your local branch is also a place to go for counsel when you wish to discuss in confidence financial problems of a private or business nature.

Our local branch manager has a wealth of experience and can, if necessary, call on the experience of countless specialists within the Royal Bank organization. Meet our local Manager. He will be delighted to see you. You will discover that he's a good man to know.

HE SEEDS AN ACRE IN 8 MINUTES

With the aid of modern machines, Canadian farmers have overcome their shortage of help, and have stepped up their earnings, through increased production per man. In the event of possible all-out war, modern machine-farming will safeguard Canada's food supply, in spite of further diversion of manpower.

GENERAL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT

is helping to shape our country's future

New power developments by Canada's electric utilities, using G-E equipment, will provide millions of additional horsepower.

The ever-growing use of electric power in Canada is a primary reason for the rapid expansion of our industries . . . largely responsible for the high individual output of our workers.

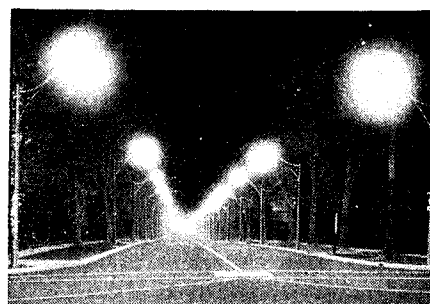

Canadian General Electric has for fifty-eight years built much of the equipment that makes possible this "electrical way of living."

Mine hoist driven by two motors totalling 4500 hp. Electric motors increase the output and earning capacity of workers.

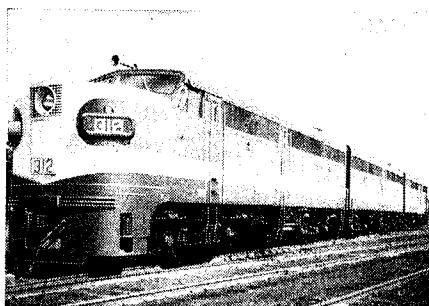

This company manufactures much of the equipment needed by electric utilities to push ahead rural electrification.

C.G.E. designs and manufactures lighting equipment for scientifically-planned street lighting and electric traffic control.

C.G.E. manufactures all types of Television equipment — from the transmitters — to the receivers in your homes.

Diesel-electric locomotives, using G-E electrical equipment, are proving their efficiency and economy on Canadian railroads.

Modern, electric work-saving G-E appliances ease the housewife's tasks, in the kitchen, laundry, all through the house.

Government Business Is Your Business

Education - The Key To Progress

Your right to know is the door to a better economic, social and cultural life; and education is the key to that door.

It is the function of the Department of Education to keep abreast of modern trends in education, discarding impractical or outdated methods and ideas, in favor of standards and achievements to enable young people to take their place in society, confident in their own abilities and able through training to attain their goal.

Activities of the Department of Education include: development, operation or supervision of:

SCHOOL DIVISIONS: Large school divisions have been organized for efficiency of operation, to provide pupils with better facilities and to promote uniformity of opportunity for all. To each is appointed a superintendent to assist and advise trustees and teachers.

TEACHER TRAINING: Teachers are trained at the University of Alberta. A Board of Teacher Education and Certification advises the University and the Minister. Teacher qualifications have been substantially raised in recent years. To assist school boards in the establishment of a Teacher Retirement Fund substantial contributions are made amounting in 1950-51 to $550,000.

AUDIO-VISUAL AIDS: This branch of the Department has built up a large library of sound films, silent films, filmstrips and slides available for classroom use, free. These cover a variety of topics in the Alberta School Curriculum. Circulation last school year exceeded 32,000 items, chiefly films.

CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOL BRANCH: This branch takes education to children in remote areas and those physically unable to attend regular schools. It also serves schools without teachers, and adults seeking self-improvement. Courses include full academic subjects, business law, bookkeeping and shorthand.

SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL SERVICES: Deaf and blind children are educated in special schools substantially free of charge. Special classrooms for children with defective vision, impaired hearing and other handicaps are generously supported. The Department also operates the Institute of Technology and Art in Calgary, the Nurses' Aides School, the Health and Recreation Program, and various projects under Canadian Vocational Training.

SCHOOL BOOK BRANCH: During its period of operation this branch has distributed over six million school books, either free or at a minimum cost.

AVERAGE SALARY OF TEACHERS EMPLOYED BY SCHOOL DIVISIONS: 1939—$812; 1949—$2127.

COST OF PUBLIC SCHOOL EDUCATION PER CHILD: 1939—$59; 1949—$143.

There's a bright future in store for these eye-catching togs. You'll strut across the campus with pride in every step when you choose the clothes you know have that extra "eye appeal."

The Bay is right on top to give you the clothes you want at prices that are so appealing.

Becoming Campus Attractions

The Bay's Men's Wear Department, Main Floor, and Women's Fashions, Second Floor . . . have the casual togs that say, "Well dressed and comfortable." Come into the Bay soon . . . You'll enjoy the friendly, courteous service.
